

Deep-Seated Disputes Smoulder Over Planks In GOP 1952 Platform

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

CHICAGO — (AP) — Some 90 delegates to the feud-wracked Republican convention got a peek today at a proposed harmony platform — behind locked and guarded doors.

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado hoped the resolution committee he heads will quickly approve the bulky statement of policy and speed it to the convention, possibly by tonight.

Work Behind Schedule

But deep-seated disputes over foreign policy, national defense and civil rights planks were smouldering. They could break into flaming arguments any time — either within the committee or later on the convention floor.

The committee, running behind schedule, started out with 106 delegate-members — two from each state and territory. Some delegations named only one platform member, however, and a credentials committee ruling that barred some contested delegates cut its total to 92.

John Foster Dulles, GOP elder statesman and one-time consultant to the Democratic administration on foreign affairs, has been working with the group. He has been shuttling between Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Ohio Sen. Robert Taft, top contenders for the presidential nomination.

Dulles told Republican senators last night he thought all GOP presidential aspirants could support the proposed foreign and defense compromises.

Eisenhower Doubtful

"They contain a lot of unnecessary verbiage on the past but look ahead in the right direction," Dulles said.

Eisenhower told visiting delegates much the same thing. He said the foreign plank seems to be "raking up the past, which I wouldn't want." But pledges for the future, he said, contain "all the essentials necessary to guide us from the standpoint of enlightened self-interest of the United States."

Of the defense plank's emphasis on air power, he said: "I'm not so certain I agree on that."

Taft and his experts reportedly okayed both planks, especially the air-power stress in the defense proposal. Taft repeatedly has called for more air strength as a defense must.

Biggest threat to Millikin's harmony efforts was an unsettled battle about the Republican stand on anti-discrimination measures. These are a bid for Negro and other minority support.

Milwaukee Officials Cruise To Muskegon

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — The Milwaukee city council will pay its annual visit to Muskegon tomorrow aboard the Lake Michigan cruise ship Milwaukee Clipper.

The 60-man group, including city officials headed by Mayor Frank Zeidler, will be guests of the Muskegon and North Muskegon aldermen. The Michigan groups will repay the visit later this summer.

Railroad Layoffs Spread As Steel Mills Remain Idle

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Additional layoffs in the railroad industry loomed today as the result of the nationwide strike of 600,000 CIO United Steelworkers.

Nearly 50,000 railroaders have been furloughed since the strike began June 2. They're part of the 422,405 workers in allied industries off the job because of the steel strike.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which laid off 10,000 men June 5, says it is being forced to furlough "several thousand" additional workers.

One Tieup Dangerous

A spokesman declared, "The strike is having serious progressive effect on traffic x x x. Now it is cutting off shipments from many concerns which depend on steel for their own production."

The same situation holds true on many other railroads throughout the country. Many are moving only passengers, mail, express and perishables as the production of durable goods is curtailed because of the steel strike.

Meanwhile, representatives of the iron ore industry say they plan to ask the steelworkers if a plan can be worked out to move iron ore now stockpiled in the Upper Lakes region. All ore shipments, along with iron ore mining, have been suspended and industry officials are fearful an iron ore shortage next winter will cause steel plants to shut down.

Compulsory Union Opposed

With no sign of a settlement in the walkout there are these developments:

Russia Ridicules Politics In U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Moscow says American presidential candidates will be elected at the Chicago conventions by a "small circle of bosses" who hire reporters at $20 a head to cheer for their candidates so the public will believe it has a voice in the selections.

On the basis of radio Moscow broadcasts to Russian listeners, officials reported today that this was the Communist party line on the way candidates are chosen in the "false American democracy."

To make sure the Russians get the Communist version of what is going on at Chicago, the Moscow radio is running a series of talks by Vladimir Morev, a Soviet journalist who said he attended the Philadelphia conventions four years ago.

"In these talks our listeners will hear about the false American Democracy, about the close connection which exists in America between the apparatus of the Bourgeois parties and the criminal world, and about how the conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties are held," said Moscow at the outset.

British Press Asks Dismissal Of 'Red Dean'

LONDON — (AP) — An unprecedented demand for the ouster of Dr. Hewlett Johnson a dean of Canterbury were put before the House of Commons today as the British press joined in denouncing the "Red dean's" allegations that the Americans are waging germ warfare in the Far East.

Nine Conservative members of parliament filed a motion asking Queen Elizabeth II to revoke the appointment of the 78-year-old dean. Such a parliamentary petition to the crown has never been introduced before.

The motion said the dean "has been guilty of actions contrary to his calling as a clergyman of a Christian church and prejudicial to the interest and safety of her majesty's subjects."

Dr. Johnson, returning from an eight-week tour of China as the guest of the Communist government, showed a press conference here yesterday a 12-yard-long manifesto he said was signed by Chinese church leaders "deploring" germ warfare.

He told the conference he had "irrefutable facts" supporting the germ warfare charges but refused to answer questions about insects he claimed he saw and admitted he had seen no one who had contracted any disease from U. S. planted germs.

Almost every London newspaper this morning greeted the dean's statements with outraged editorials demanding dismissal.

Canvassers Get Rival Proposals

LANSING — (AP) — The state board of canvassers will meet here Thursday to pass on two rival plans for reapportionment of the state legislature.

The board will decide whether the two plans should be certified to be given a place on the November election ballot.

Petitions bearing more than the required 187,939 signatures were filed by both the Michigan committee for a balanced legislature and a CIO-backed committee.

CIO legislative experts, however, have been examining the petitions filed by the balanced legislature committee, which had the backing of the Michigan Industrial Council and the Michigan Farm Bureau.

It is thought the CIO group may protest certification of the rival reapportionment plan in hopes of gaining the sole position on the ballot.

Members of the board of canvassers include Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Attorney General Frank G. Millard, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lee M. Thurston.

Although it is probable that at least three or perhaps all of the board members may be still out of town, because of the Republican national convention or other attractions, their deputies will be able to act in their absence.

Also under consideration will be a ballot proposal to expand the search and seizure provisions of the state's narcotic control law.

No Trace Found Of 2 On Sloop

AUGRES, Mich. — (AP) — The Coast Guard renewed an air-sea search today for a missing Saginaw father and son feared drowned off Point Au Gres.

The 21-foot cabin sloop of John A. Schur, 38-year-old toolmaker, was sighted around off Point Au Gres Monday afternoon.

No trace was found of Schur or his 11-year-old son, Timothy.

The two had set sail from Tawas Sunday for Saginaw.

Coast Guard personnel used an amphibious "duck" in an all-day search yesterday but had to halt at nightfall.

Searchers remained mystified at the pair's disappearance. No storm was reported on Saginaw Bay Sunday or Monday.

The boat, the Maybelle, was found drifting in bullrushes two miles north of Au Gres. Its sails were close-hauled and its rudder lashed securely.

Coast Guardsmen said the father and son apparently fell overboard. They said one might have fallen overboard and the other jumped in an attempted rescue.

Heat Turned On For Sen. Taft Test In Michigan Delegation

By JACK I. GREEN

CHICAGO — (AP) — Michigan's Republican convention delegation expected its first real test today of Eisenhower-Taft sentiment within its ranks.

Contrary to the 45-1 vote "on principle" on the Eisenhower rules changes Monday, the delegation braced for a ballot today which both sides agreed might come close to showing the actual candidate lineup.

The test will come on a minority report from the credentials committee to override a commit-

Lapeer Eviction Case Is Puzzle To Gov. Williams

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams today was considering an investigation of the controversial Lapeer eviction case that led to a pitched battle between farmers and sheriff's deputies a month ago.

But Williams frankly admitted that the case is so complicated that he didn't know how to go about getting an effective investigation underway.

Another Raid Planned

There were reports, meanwhile, that Lapeer county sheriff Clark Gregory was preparing to stage another eviction try at Lapeer.

Last week a raid scheduled by a dozen deputies and some 50 state police was called off after an 11th hour truce plea by state officials.

Williams said he would not propose any further delays to the sheriff. He said he was considering an investigation but didn't know just how to set up one that would be effective.

"The case is so complicated you could study it for two months and still not know everything about it," Williams said. "It's such a mess that any investigation without the proper tools would be of no service."

Two Farms Sold

Mrs. Grace White, who purchased the two farms at a sheriff's auction, is seeking to evict Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, a widow, and the Ziegenhardt brothers, Chris and Paul, who have barricaded themselves on their land.

Mrs. White purchased the farms after the three refused to pay assessments following the 1935 bankruptcy of the Lapeer Mutual Fire Insurance Association.

Queen Will Sail Up Traverse Bay

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. — (AP) — Queen Ruth and her court of six lovely northern Michigan Belles will come sailing up Grand Traverse Bay tomorrow morning in the opening of colorful ceremonies to mark the coronation of the national cherry queen.

The queen is Ruth Madonna Belanger, a blonde beauty from Leelanau county. She will receive her crown tonight from President John Hannah of Michigan State College in an outdoor ceremony. Afterward, there will be a coronation ball.

The Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw will bring the queen and her court up Grand Traverse Bay. They will be landed from the Mackinaw by a navy duck which will carry them directly up the beach to the reviewing stand.

Children's activities make up tomorrow's program. On Friday, there will be a big floral parade with 21 marching bands and four miles of floats.

Hoover Counsels GOP To Save Free America In 'Farewell' Speech

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Aging Herbert Hoover bade farewell to Republican convention delegates last night with a plea to rip away the Democrats' "plush curtain" at home and salvage "lost statesmanship" abroad.

Hoover, the only living ex-President and the last Republican to hold that office, attacked the Democratic administration with a vigor that belied his 77 years.

Views Close To Taft's

His calm statements at the outset and at the end of his speech—that he did not expect to address another GOP convention because of "the inexorable course of nature"—were met with roared "No's."

He mentioned neither of the top contenders for Republican presidential nomination. But his firmly-worded viewpoint on foreign policy hewed close to that of Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft and collided, roughly at points, with that of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"A phantom army" was the tag Hoover applied to the divisions a-building in the Allied defense program launched under Eisenhower's leadership. Hoover called for a powerful air force to "restore the advantage of military initiative to us"—a frequent Taft thesis.

Disonor Grows

"I do not propose that we retreat into our shell like a turtle," Hoover said. "I do propose the deadly reprisal strategy of a rattlesnake."

He accused the Democrats, in office since Hoover's futile try for re-election in 1932, of corroding "the grandeur of the people . . . (by) the drip, drip, drip from dishonor in high places."

"Behind this plush curtain of

tax and spend," Hoover said, "three sinister spooks or ghosts are mixing poison for the American people."

"They are the shades of Mussolini, with his bureaucratic Fascism; of Karl Marx, and his Socialism; and of Lord Keynes, with his perpetual government spending, deficits and inflation."

The Democrats' domestic plan of these, plus "give-away programs"—added to "the lost statesmanship" of dealing with Communism—made freedom the dominant issue of the election, Hoover said.

Crowd Roars

"This election may well be the last chance for survival of freedom in America," he declared.

Hoover's appearance at the packed convention hall set off a tumultuous ovation. It far eclipsed in volume and length the one accorded

'No Sun Bathing' Signs Criticized In Detroit Parks

DETROIT — (AP) — The president of the Detroit parks and recreation commission has found out that posting a sign that says "No Sun Bathing" isn't the simple matter it appears at first blush.

In his official capacity, Vaughan Reid put up "No Sunbathing" signs in certain areas of city parks. He figured the signs meant no sun bathing just like "keep off the grass signs" mean keep off the grass.

Asked To Explain

So imagine his surprise when he was taken to task by the city council yesterday and asked to explain just what his no sun bathing signs meant.

Council President Louis C. Miriani said sternly:

"You've put up signs reading 'no sun bathing.' Now suppose I go to your park and take off my tie and shirt and sit in the sun. I'm sun-bathing. (A solemn pause). Am I hurting any sensibilities?"

Reid still thought it a simple matter and replied glibly:

"Of course not. Your costume isn't immodest. The objection has been to abbreviated sun costumes and brief bathing suits."

That didn't satisfy the council president, obviously a man who won't let anyone pull the wool over his eyes.

"I've got two daughters and they wear two piece bathing suits, the council president said bluntly. 'Are they being immodest?'"

A State Of Mind

The keeper of the parks was on the defensive by now.

"We just want people to be moderately dressed," he hedged.

Then came a question from a woman member of the council:

"My woman friends want to know the rules," councilwoman Mary V. Beck said sweetly. "Are shorts and a blouse immodest?"

The keeper of the parks said he would study the problem. He left the meeting with these words of wisdom from the council president ringing in his ears:

"Modesty is a state of mind."

Louisiana Move Gains 11 Votes For Eisenhower

By JACK BELL

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago — (AP) — In a surprise strategy move Sen. Robert A. Taft today moved to cut the firepower of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's delegate-scandal charges in their GOP nomination battle.

Shortly before the third day's session of the torrid 25th Republican convention began, the Taft-dominated credentials committee voted unanimously to seat a heavily pro-Eisenhower delegation from Louisiana.

Texas Compromise Hinted

The action, giving Eisenhower a net gain of 11 votes, punched a hole in the three-state lineup of Georgia, Louisiana and Texas contests that the General's backers had planned to carry to the convention floor for a showdown vote on delegate contests that might

It's Ike, Says Knight

DETROIT — (AP) — Publisher John S. Knight predicted in Detroit Free Press today that "Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the next Republican nominee for president, with Senator Richard Nixon of California as his probable running mate."

In a dispatch from Chicago, Knight declared "It's all over but the voting."

go a long way toward indicating the nominee.

If it were followed by a further compromise on the disputed Texas delegation—as some credentials committee members seemed to think likely—it would leave the Eisenhower backers in a weakened position to push their floor fight.

Chairman Ross Ritzley of the credentials committee told reporters during a luncheon recess of his hearings that "there is talk of a compromise" of the Texas case. He said both sides had been in a huddle but "how far it has gone, I don't know."

Position Strengthened

By the maneuver on Louisiana, Taft forces evidently hoped (1) to put themselves in the favored position of supporting the traditionally unbroken acceptance by GOP conventions of credentials committee's reports and (2) to counter "steamroller" charges made by the Eisenhower faction.

Taft's leaders apparently concluded that yielding of a handful of Southern delegates to Eisenhower would strengthen their position with the mass of delegates.

The report of the credentials committee must be approved by the convention before each of the contested delegations can take its seat.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, Eisenhower's campaign manager, said the battle would go on despite the Taft concession in Louisiana.

The struggle then would come to a head on the seating of a 17-vote pro-Taft delegation from Georgia, approved by a 30 to 21 vote of the credentials group yesterday.

Colonel's Wife In Coffee Deal

WIESBADEN, Germany — (AP) — One of 17 black market charges against a U. S. Air Force colonel's wife was dismissed today. A prosecution witness denied he had purchased 600 gallons of gasoline ration coupons from her.

But Mrs. Katherine G. Reed, Michigan-born socialite, still faced charges that she sold 1,200 gallons worth of gasoline coupons, and dealt extensively in black market coffee and currency.

She has pleaded innocent and contends that the charges are fabrications and the outgrowth of animosity by former German employees.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Jerome Silverstein moved that the gasoline count be dismissed after Hans Riedl, a German, testified.

Riedl said, however, that he had bought several cans of coffee at the home for 9.5 marks per can ($2.26).

The defendant, a native of Mt. Clemens, Mich., watched proceedings reserved but once smiled broadly at a friend in the courtroom. Her husband, Col. Allen W. Reed, now a special assistant to the assistant chief of staff, 12th Air Force, sat beside her.

An Air Force commissary officer testified the Reeds had always drawn their full coffee ration, amounting to 28 and later 21 pounds a month. But he said 99 percent of his customers did so.

Continue Search For Car Thieves

City police were continuing their investigation today of the breaking and entering of a downtown business establishment and the theft of a car from a Cornell home early Tuesday morning.

No new clues have been found in the case, the police or parties presumably having left the area in the stolen car, police reported.

About $21 from a cash box and approximately $30 from pinball machines were reportedly taken from Rich's Tea Room on Ludington Street where the thieves entered a side window after 12 midnight Tuesday morning.

One Car Recovered
The same night a car was removed from Caswell's Auto Sales used car lot at the corner of Ludington Street and Stephenson Avenue following the entering of the office building on the lot to secure the car keys. The automobile was found yesterday morning in a ditch bordering road E-22 in Flat Rock. The unrecovered car, in which the parties supposedly left Delta county, was taken from the Cornell farm house about one mile from the spot where the Caswell car was ditched.

Same Footprints Found
The second car, a 1946 Ford, is owned by George Budinger Sr. of Cornell, Rte. 1.

Police report that the tea room theft and the stolen cars are related cases because of identical footprints found at Rich's Tea Room and in the Caswell office.

Another vehicle, a Willy's pick-up truck, was stolen July 5 from in front of the Ellingsen-MacLean service station on Ludington Street and has not been recovered. Police officers do not connect the theft of this truck with that of the two cars Monday night.

Ferry Workers In Strike Fired

DETROIT — (AP) — About 100 railroad carmen employees on Lake Michigan and the Detroit River have been fired for their part in the six-day strike of licensed officers.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Co., said it discharged 67 employees on Lake Michigan ferries and eight on Detroit River boats. Grand Trunk Western fired 20 on its Lake Michigan vessels.

Both railroads accused the officers of leaving their boats without permission.

"That won't get their carmen running," said Herman Booth, International Marine director of the striking Great Lakes licensed officers organization in Detroit.

Booth said the strike would not be called off until all the union's members are restored to their regular jobs, and wage and union shop issues settled. He said the four railroads involved have refused to resume negotiations.

About 200 members of the independent union are involved in the strike. Booth said an unidentified Wabash Railroad official has told some of that company's employees they would be fired if they continued their strike. He said the Ann Arbor railroad had made no dismissal threats against its employees.

The strike has tied up the carmen at Michigan and Wisconsin ports on the lake and at Detroit and Windsor, stranding many motorists over the holiday weekend.

The union is demanding pay boosts of from $28 to $40 a day for captains of the boats and proportionate raises for lower ranking officers. It also is seeking a union shop.

Kingsford Composer Gains Success With 'Goodnight Waltz'

Les Kangas, of Kingsford, who was born in Kipling and has many friends in this area, is gaining a substantial reputation as a promising young composer.

His most recent composition, "The Goodnight Waltz" was recorded for the Polkland Recording Co. of Sheboygan by Al Barkle and his Trail Blazers. David A. Bensman, owner of the Polkland Recording Co., has said, "Great interest in the number has been expressed by recording artists on national labels."

Kangas was an Eagle Scout, attended the University of Michigan, was the winner of several dancing championships, and is eligible to wear five battle stars for major campaigns fought in World War II. He was once chosen as the "week's most eligible bachelor in Hollywood." This last entitled him to a love scene in a movie production opposite Pat Hall, RKO starlet. He has appeared on major network radio, shows, including the Carnation Program, Truth or Consequences, and Breakfast in Hollywood.

In addition to the "Goodnight Waltz", Kangas is the composer of "Dinner Bucket Blues", "Carole", "Remember My Darling", and "Beetle Bug Bounce", on which he is putting the finishing touches.

Navy Unveils Model Of Atomic Submarine

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The radically new atomic-powered submarine Nautilus being built by the Navy will be a pug-nosed vessel that looks like a hammer-head shark.

This was revealed Monday when the Navy unveiled a four and a half foot model of the submarine President Truman recently said would be able to travel thousands of miles at top speed on a few pounds of uranium fuel.

Although the Navy said the model gives away no secrets—officials said it is diagrammatic, and not intended to disclose size, dimensions, or placement of equipment — this much seemed indicated:

The atomic energy producing reactor, or furnace, and Allied equipment is placed in the center and takes up about a third of the

Farm Round-Up Will Be Aug. 1

The annual Farmers' Round-Up in which the Upper Peninsula experimental station in Chatham plays host to U. P. farmers will be held this year on Aug. 1. It was announced today by William Cargo, acting superintendent of the station and supervisor of the extension program in northern Michigan.

This year's event will mark a third of a century that the branch of Michigan State College's school of agriculture has annually opened its gates to the public in display of some of the research in progress.

A full day of activities and demonstrations covering farm and home topics is being arranged. MSC agricultural specialists will aid county extension and experiment station staff members in discussing demonstrations and answering questions.

Increased interest in new farming developments throughout northern Michigan is expected to result in greater attendance than the 1,200 registered in 1951.

Station facilities which will be on display to rural visitors include the orchard, garden, grain and forage research plots, the dairy herd and poultry flock.

Lunch will be available at Camp Shaw but visitors are invited to bring their picnic baskets.

RECEIVES COMMISSION

Corneilus E. Bartley, son of Mrs. C. E. Bartley, 330 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, received his commission July 3 as a second lieutenant in the Army. He was presented gold bars at graduation ceremonies of the Signal Corps' Officer Candidate Department class.

The Army commission awarded Lieutenant Bartley along with 73 other officer candidates, climaxed twenty-two weeks of intensive classroom and field instruction. During the rigid course, general military and leadership training emphasis on operation and maintenance of Signal Corps communications equipment, were stressed. He entered Army service in June 1952.

Thursday's OCS graduating class of 74 is the ninth at Fort Monmouth since Signal Corps officer training opened here last September. In eight previous classes, 513 candidates were commissioned.

Parallel Parking Issue Could Wreck Escanaba Safety Council

THE proposal of the Escanaba Safety Council to experiment with parallel parking on Ludington Street has met with firm and united opposition from retail merchants. The opposition is not confined to merchants, either. A large number of motorists have expressed opposition to the proposal.

Under the circumstances, the Safety Council may well lay the parallel parking issue aside and tackle other problems of traffic control and safety factors. The Council may regard its position on the parallel parking issue as being correct but the change cannot be made without the support of a majority of the people. In fact, the effectiveness of the Council itself could be seriously jeopardized if it persisted in seeking a change that lacks public support. Perhaps at some later date the situation may be different and a proposal for parallel parking will receive more generous support.

There are plenty of other problems, however, that the Safety Council may well tackle. For instance, we would like to see the Council conduct a study of traffic control lights in Escanaba to determine whether the traffic lights are properly placed for the most effective traffic control and whether they are properly timed. If they are properly placed and properly timed, then it has been accomplished simply by accident because, as far as we know, there has never been a real study made of the problem.

Our own guess is that we are not utilizing the traffic lights properly, that they impede the flow of traffic and that they should be synchronized. It hardly seems proper that a motorist travelling from 11th Street on Ludington should be forced to stop three times.

Our Stable Economy

Refutes Red Propaganda

A top item in the Communist propaganda primer is the standard assertion that American capitalism cannot prosper without vast arms expenditures or pump-priming foreign aid outlays.

The line is this: The U. S. system is hopelessly out of balance. Production normally far outruns consumption, so to keep the economy going, we have to drum up demand artificially by placing huge war orders and larding goods out to our foreign friends.

It is true that during the great depression of the 1930's production and consumption were out of kilter and the economy was affected by other serious distortions. It is also correct that the depression really ended only with the start of defense and war spending in 1939, and that we have had almost continuously high arms and foreign aid outlays ever since.

But the great fall in the Red propaganda is that the United States is no longer the same country it was in the thirties.

Our population has increased substantially. To be sure, so has our industrial capacity, and it might be argued that the effective demands of the people are still outmatched by our ability to produce. Yet this ignores many other features of American life which did not exist 20 years ago. It would be foolhardy to say we could not have another depression. Who can be sure? But it is not silly to say that our safeguards against one are far greater than existed in 1930.

There is compensation for unemployment. Farmers have the assurance of price supports. Bank deposits are protected. The law forbids many of the practices that led to the wild-stock market gyrations of the pre-depression era. The whole level of government support of the economy is many times higher than ever in our history.

This, though, is just the negative side of the picture. The positive aspect is more important.

Not only have we grown, but we are still growing. Experts now look for a population increase of 25 millions in the next generation. These added Americans will all have to be fed, housed, clothed and served in myriad ways.

We need new schools, new hospitals, new roads and countless other facilities to keep up with this growth. The economy will have to go on expanding to fulfill the needs, and the expansion itself will create an outlet for goods.

A good deal of this effort will require the assistance of public funds at the local, state and federal levels. There is really nothing new in this. The only thing different is the scale of operations in a country of 156 millions.

On top of all this, the record shows that the American standard of living does not remain stationary. It has gone up more or less steadily for many decades. The prospect is that it will continue to climb, again with resulting greater demand for the products of American industry.

It is safe also to conclude that all kinds of totally new products will enter the scene and will have a salutary effect upon the economy. And the country's history reveals further that the curve of productivity—measuring industrial efficiency—has gone up steadily and should continue to soar. This means more product for less effort, and contributes to that climbing standard of living.

TRAFFIC 'MISSES' (Marquette Eagle Star)

A motorist whose car had only one headlight burning crashed an arterial on Shore Drive, the driver probably concluding that since there was no car on Shore Drive within 50 feet of him there was no need for him to stop.

He's the type of motorist who observes arterial only if he thinks a police officer is around—the type that is responsible for many accidents.

Two women stepped into the path of a car that had the green light on Main Street, probably concluding that the driver would apply the brakes in time to avoid hitting them. He did, but the next car might not have good brakes.

Returning from the baseball game at State Street park Saturday night, a motorist narrowly missed hitting a boy who dashed out from behind a parked car. He was a lucky boy, but he might not be lucky the next time he tries it.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

CHICAGO—One of the most important developments of this Republican convention is the big kick the Democrats are getting out of it.

Naturally the Democratic high command in Washington has its observers here, and the reports they are sending back are brimming over with optimism.

Six months ago the Democratic national committee figured privately the party did not have a chance. Today, Republican bitterness, the feud between Taft and Ike, the GOP trend toward MacArthur, plus Eisenhower's failure to stampede the nation, have brought poorly concealed joy back to the Democrats.

Some Democrats, Sen. Estes Kefauver among them, now figure they could win more easily against Eisenhower—due to Taft's opposition and the natural tendency of the nation to shy away from a military man.

There is one Republican candidate, however, the Democrats admit they couldn't lick, though they also figure the Republicans aren't smart enough to nominate him. He is Gov. Earl Warren of California.

One Democrat old-timer, who has seen a lot of battles and has been watching the Republican show from the sidelines, expressed it this way:

"When Roosevelt ran for the first time in 1932, he told Jim Farley: 'The only way we can win is to capture a big chunk of Republican votes. The Republicans have been in office a long time and have the majority of registered voters. So we've got to win Republican votes or we are sunk.'"

"But today," continued the Democrat, "the reverse is true. It's the Democrats who have the heavy registration. Most of the kids in this country have never known a Republican president. So the Republicans, in order to win, have got to capture a big block of Democrats."

"And Earl Warren is about the only sure-fire candidate who can do it for them. He's done it every time in California. In '42 he won every single one of California's 58 counties. In '46 he won the Democratic nomination as well as the Republican, and in '50 he swamped Jimmy Roosevelt, though Jimmy was no mean campaigner."

WARREN'S GREATEST ASSET

"Don't publish this," continued the Democratic leader, "because we don't want the Republicans to get smart for a change and nominate Warren. But they seem to hold it against him because he wins Democrat votes. That, however, is his greatest asset."

"However," concluded my friend, "the Republicans are too dumb to realize it, so I guess it won't make any difference whether you publish it or not. You can always depend on the Republicans to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory."

However, it's barely possible that, if a deadlock should develop between Ike and Taft in the initial balloting, the Republicans might get smart this time and fool the Democrats by nominating the man the Democrats know they can't beat.

CONVENTION MERRY-GO-ROUND

A reporter's convention ramblings—Brassy, boisterous Chicago is a discordant symphony of noises—blaring brass bands, booming loudspeakers, whining sirens—one siren, screaming down Michigan Avenue, actually turned out to be a fire truck. The fire fighters, swinging red axes, piled into convention headquarters at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Just a false alarm.

Taft and Eisenhower loudspeaker trucks crossed paths, engaged in a loudspeaker duel. The Eisenhower truck ended up cheering for Taft, using his initials: "R-A-T." Rat—Robert Alfonso Taft. Things are really bitter. Taft and Ike rooting squads ranging around town, meeting the trains and jockeying for position in front of the TV cameras. Pretty girls passing out like buttons like popcorn from paper bags. Eisenhower fans jeering when Taft fans were forced to take down huge banner and picture inside Conrad Hilton lobby. Pennsylvania's bristled-haired Sen. Jim Duff flagging a cab with the same hand came close to lighting up Duff's fist like a torch. General Eisenhower, flashing his toothpaste-ad grin, followed by eager rooters and hustling reporters.

The rooters beat most of the reporters into the press conference room. Doug Cater of the Reporter Magazine almost got his nose caught in the door. Persistent Harold Stassen escorted through Conrad Hilton lobby by a small band of rooters, trying to whoop it up for their candidate. California delegates sporting platter-sized Warren Buttons, largest of convention. Efficient Taft workers corralling delegates and herding them in to see the senator. General MacArthur, master showman, waiting until the last minute for a dramatic appearance on convention scene.

Music-Dramas Blossom On North Carolina's 'Starlight' Circuit

By HENRY LESENE

NEA Special Correspondent
CHARLOTTE, N. C.—(NEA)—North Carolina playwright Paul Green seems to have really started something when he introduced the outdoor symphonic drama to the American theater.

Nearly a million people have seen the play, "The Lost Colony," which this year is in its 12th season at Roanoke Island. Now these symphonic dramas are springing up everywhere, particularly in North Carolina, running nightly through July and August. They all deal with home-grown history and have a spiritual tone. Their theme is that man's courage and faith enable him to move forward despite his cruelty to his fellows.

New productions this Summer constitute what might be called a "starlight" circuit. Along the magnificent Blue Ridge Parkway alone three such productions are underway. This area has become the great white way of the Summer outdoor theater.

"Horn in the West" is making its bow at Boone. Second outdoor drama by Kermit Hunter, a pioneer in this form of drama, it tells the story of the trail-blazers of the Revolutionary period. At Asheville, "Thunderland" by Hubert Hayes, starts this year in a 2400-seat amphitheater on the Biltmore Estate.

Both of these dramas deal with the story of Daniel Boone, but they are altogether different. The drama at Asheville is somewhat the life story of Boone, "Horn in the West," presented in the new Daniel Boone Theater at Boone, deals with a period in history (1770-1780) in which the pioneer is symbolized as a leader of other frontiersmen who followed the wilderness trail, such as John Sevier.

"Unto These Hills," written by Hunter, is having its third season. This authentic saga of the Cherokee Indians is presented in a mountaintop theater above the Indian village of Cherokee, in the shadow of some of the highest peaks in eastern America.

Green's pioneer, "The Lost Colony," was first started as a local enterprise and was later underwritten by the state. The drama is based on the mystery of the disappearance of Sir Walter Raleigh's colony established on Roanoke Island in 1585—the first attempt to found an English settlement in America. In pantomime, spoken word, and dance and music, the play is performed on the very spot where the events on which it is based took place.

"The Lost Colony" had the field to itself until six years ago when "The Common Glory," also by Green, was started at Williamsburg, Va. It takes its title from a phrase in the writings of Thomas Jefferson, a central character in the story. The third of the Green symphonic dramas, "Faith of Our Fathers," is presented each Summer in the nation's capital. The second season last year drew an attendance of around 100,000.

These outdoor historic dramas are projects of non-profit making, educational institutions or are state- or underwritten. Though not on so large a scale as some of the rest, North Carolina has still another outdoor historical drama which is being projected as an annual attraction.

Last Summer the drama, "Then Conquer We Must," was presented for a few nights late in the season in a natural amphitheater at Kings Mountain, which is almost astride the North Carolina-South Carolina border. Plans are underway to stage it this Summer for a much longer period. It is based on the Battle of Kings Mountain, a turning point in the American Revolution.

ON THE OUTSIDE in North Carolina, summer visitors see musical pageants that recreate local history. This is a scene in "Unto These Hills," given near Cherokee, showing Spanish explorers meeting Indians.

FIRST OF MANY outdoor symphonic dramas along North Carolina's "starlight" circuit was "The Lost Colony" at Roanoke Island. In this scene, a minister is praying for help for the struggling young colony.

While North Carolina has gone in for this type of attraction more than any other state, it is catching on elsewhere. An outdoor drama of the same type is projected this Summer at Erwin, Tenn., and will depict the early history of the Volunteer State as it became the gateway to western expansion.

Playwright Green, one-time Pulitzer prize winner, is writing a new symphonic drama which will have to do with the landing of the Pilgrims and is scheduled for production at Plymouth, Mass., with the beginning of the 1953 Summer season. It is sponsored by the Plymouth Historical Society.

Good Evening...

(Robert Ruark is substituting for Clint Dunathan who is on vacation.)

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—It would seem that a grateful Senate has just passed a bill that should have been on the books before—a bill to limit the recall of veterans of the Korean fighting to future active duty, without their consent or special congressional decree.

It is not much, and can possibly be twisted and overridden according to the President's odd whim, but it should have been placed in force after the armistice with the Japs in the last one. Some percentage of the weary old retdads who have found their lives interrupted for a second time might be now working at their jobs and living with their families instead of fighting a fool's war in which they have very small interest.

This would seem to be a sort of retrospective pay back by Congress for some of the arant cowardice employed in an election year to kill universal military training, which might have been the one sure source of maintaining a reservoir of trained fighting men. In the absence of UMT, the Korean crisis dragged a lot of tired old graduates of World War II back into service, while men who never served their countries at all stayed home.

"A POLICE ACTION"

There might have been some excuse for the impressment of married veterans if the Korean idiosyncy had not been dubbed a "police action" by our all-wise President—if it had been a massive war instead of a minor meddle. But Korea has been such a war that it had to be fought under wraps for purely political reasons, with all sorts of odd limitations and restrictions on its prosecution.

This was a war in which Gen. MacArthur got fired for trying to win it; this has been a war that cannot even control its prisoners of war. This is a Truman war, a war of Gen. Dodd and Gen. Colson, the old warriors who lost a third-front operation to their own POWs.

This is a police action that has dragged on for two years, with the culprit still uncaught. This is a war in which old Syngman Rhee, the head Korean, turned his Allies completely around and began to enforce the same gangster techniques in government that we have supposedly been fighting against. This is the war for which you pay taxes enough to win a double-barreled conflict against Germany and Japan, but in this one we are still short of guns and equipment but heavy on political butter. This has been a joke war, except that the people dead in it aren't laughing.

COLEMAN BACK IN SERVICE

But I cannot see how, in future, a President or a Congress can legally impress a veteran to go off and fight in what the man calls "a police action." If it is a police action the policeman ought to fight it, since that is the job of the professional. If it is not a "police action" but a full-scale war, then it should be fought with fists and feet by everyone, at home as well as abroad. But I don't see how you can involve an unwilling reserve civilian into a United Nations hunk of meaningless dialects against his will.

You will notice that Mr. Gerry Coleman, the ex-Yankee second baseman, is not playing baseball this summer. He is flying a plane. Mr. Coleman is in his peak years of his profession, and he has a wife and babies to provide for, but he is back in uniform. This boy only flew some 40-odd missions in the Pacific in the last war. Is Coleman a policeman?

My mail is heavy with letters from men who are completely cynical about their second involvement with the military in 10 years, and completely contemptuous of the war in Korea, of the alleged ideals that freeze their feet. Especially in the case of officers, this makes a lousy military force. And you cannot blame them. They've been cheated.

The active reserve boys knew the risk they ran of recall, but a great many involuntary reservists thought they were out of the service for good and all. And they found themselves breaking up their homes and halting their businesses to fight a "police action" they never believed in. I have a hunch that Congress will not get itself completely off the hook in this election year by handing the lads a feeble sop for the future.

TEST YOUR VOCABULARY

From the numbered definitions see if you can select the lettered word of the four that follow to which the definition best applies. Mark your selections. Then when you have completed the test turn to the answers below:

- 1.—Coloring matter: (a) segment; (b) pigment; (c) pigment; (d) augment.
- 2.—Compressed coal dust: (a) piquet; (b) briquet; (c) coquet; (d) roquet.
- 3.—Stunted: (a) snobby; (b) scrubby; (c) shrubby; (d) stubby.
- 4.—A fairy: (a) siren; (b) bogey; (c) troll; (d) fay.
- 5.—To be sullen: (a) scowl; (b) pout; (c) sulk; (d) snarl.
- 6.—Inclined to laughter: (a) risible; (b) visible; (c) dringible; (d) tangible.
- 7.—To scatter wastefully: (a) squander; (b) lavish; (c) dissipate; (d) strew.
- 8.—To turn into another language: (a) elucidate; (b) expound; (c) translate; (d) construe.

Answers

- 1.—(c) pigment (PIG-munt); Latin pigmentum, paint, from pingo to paint.
- 2.—(b) briquet (brih-KET); French, small brick.
- 3.—(b) scrubby (SCRUB-ih); Old English scrybb, brushwood.
- 4.—(d) fay (fay); Old French fae, fairy.
- 5.—(c) sulk (sulk); Old English ascolcan, to become slack.
- 6.—(a) risible (RIZ-ih-bl); Latin risus, laughed at.
- 7.—(c) dissipate (DISS-ih-PATE); Latin dis, away from, and suppo, throw.
- 8.—(c) translate (trans-LATE); Latin trans, over, and latus, carried.

It takes a lot of nerve to wear some of today's evening gowns—and considerable backbone, too.

The Doctor Says...

You Have 50-50 Chance of Predicting Unborn Child's Sex

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

It is sometimes nice to start this column with a question which is easy to answer instead of a hard one.

Q—Is it true that if a woman carries her unborn child toward her right side, it will be a boy, and if on the left, a girl?—Reader.

A—No. Of course, such a prediction will be right about half the time, as will any other method of forecasting the sex of an unborn child.

Q—Would it help to donate blood to a blood bank for a victim of high blood pressure?—W. C.

A—I am not sure whether this question refers to help for the blood bank or help for the person with high blood pressure. In general, it is probably unwise on both counts.

Q—Is it true that there is no calcium volume to be obtained from pasteurized milk?—E. V. H.

A—No, it is not true. There is no material effect on the calcium of milk from the process of pasteurization.

Q—What is an active duodenal ulcer? Some people tell us it is the same as cancer and some say no.—Mrs. O. B.

A—An active duodenal ulcer is a form of stomach ulcer in which the lesion lies in the duodenum, near the lower outlet of the stomach. The term "active" means that it is becoming worse. Cancer can form in or near the ulcer, but the ulcer itself is not cancerous.

Q—What are belladonna pills used for? Is it true that they are sometimes used in stomach ailments?—M. G.

A—Belladonna is a derivative of a drug known as atropine, which has many uses in medicine. Its particular value is to decrease secretions.

Belladonna—or something like it—is used also for many purposes, including the dilation of the pupil of the eye, as an aid in the examination of the eye, and in certain intestinal disorders. Of course, this thumbnail sketch does not give all of the uses of this interesting drug.

Q—Can a shock harm you mentally and physically?—S. A. A.

A—It could, though most people seem to recover well from the "shocks" of life.

Q—Is it possible to have your left heel and elbow hit in cases of stomach trouble? Could this be caused by just eating too much, or too many rich foods?—Interested.

A—The connection between itching of the heel or elbow and stomach trouble is hard to figure out, and why it should be the left heel and not the right is even harder. Any connection seems extremely doubtful.

Q—Is there any truth in the belief of some of my friends that girls who have been through a serious illness sometimes mature earlier than others?—Mrs. E. C.

A—Not that I know of.

Lansing Flagpoles Painted By One-Armed Kentucky Steeplejack

LANSING — (AP)—A one-armed steeplejack was an outdoor attraction Tuesday at the State Capitol. Jesse Mattox of Nicholasville, Ky., contracted to give a coat of aluminum paint to the three flag poles on top of the State Capitol building.

Mattox does all of his work with his right hand while hanging from a rope harness. His left hand and most of his left forearm were shot away by a Japanese shell in the South Pacific in World War II.

Mattox said he continued to work as a steeplejack after his war injury "because I want to prove that a handicapped person can still do a job."

He hoped to finish the three flag poles, collect his $100 fee and leave to find new heights to conquer.

Aorta Transplanted From Dead To Living In Rare Operation

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—The Pennsylvania hospital disclosed today what it termed the "successful completion" of a rare operation in which a section of the body's largest blood vessel was taken from a dead man and transplanted into a living person.

The vessel, the Aorta, supplies blood to the body below the heart. It is about an inch-and-one-half in diameter with walls an eighth-of-an-inch thick.

The patient, 46-year-old John Chatman of Philadelphia, was admitted to the hospital suffering from a weakening of the wall of the aorta. At one place his aorta had swollen to the size of a man's fish and was tissue thin. The hospital said a break would have caused immediate death.

On June 25, during an operation of more than seven hours duration, surgeons removed the weakened section of Chatman's aorta and replaced it with a three-inch section taken from the body of a 19-year-old youth who had been killed in an accident 10 days before.

The section had been preserved by refrigeration.

Surgeons closed Chatman's aorta with clamps and used a plastic tube to divert the blood outside the body and bypass the section being removed. The transplanted section of the vessel will be absorbed by the blood stream and replaced with new tissue created by his body.

Aged Assistance Goes Up Oct. 1

LANSING—(P)—More than 26,000 Michigan persons receiving old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to disabled will receive monthly increases ranging up to $10 as a result of state and federal action, Gov. Williams said today.

The increases will be effective Oct. 1.

Through the same legislation, 200,000 Michigan recipients of federal old age and survivors' insurance will receive increases of 1 1/2 per cent per month or $5, whichever is greater.

These increases will be effective Sept. 1.

Congress also authorized recipients of old age and survivors insurance to earn up to $75 per month, instead of the present $50, and still retain title to their benefits.

"As a result of this action," the governor said, "the maximum old age assistance benefit will be increased from $60 to $70 in October. This means that since 1949 we have increased the maximum old age grants in Michigan from $50 to $70 a month."

The social welfare department estimated that more than 17,000 old people, blind and disabled persons in Michigan will receive grants increased up to $9.50 per month.

Suit Of 685-Pounder Settled For $13,475

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. — (P) — The damage suit of a 685-pound man who went to court in a moving van was settled yesterday — out of court.

The $75,000 suit of Eugene Atkins, 29, a sideshow performer, over injuries he received in a 1951 car accident was settled for $13,475, attorneys announced.

When the announcement was made, Atkins was lying on a bed on the courthouse's first floor. His attorney, who said Atkins was paralyzed with a back injury sustained in the accident, had a crane on hand to lift Atkins to the second-floor courtroom — but no window was wide enough.

The attorneys said the defendant, Lewis R. Schroeder, a San Rafael movie projectionist, would pay $9,975 to Atkins and $3,500 to Atkins' mother, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford, and his stepfather, James M. Crawford, Long Beach.

Vice Squad Set Up For War Against Vice In Washtenaw County

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (P) — Washtenaw county set up its first vice squad today to meet what authorities described as the growing menace of narcotics, gambling and other criminal practices.

Establishment of a two-man vice detail under the sheriff's office was approved last night by the county board of supervisors.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Edmund F. De Vine said "an overall survey of felony cases in the county indicates that narcotics violations are on the increase."

"There is mounting evidence of increasing use of dope by teenagers," he said. "We propose to stamp it out before it really gets started."

De Vine said there are continuing efforts by numbers racketeers to develop pick-ups "especially in the Ypsilanti, Willow Village and Kaiser-Frazer Corp. areas."

Queen Of England Dances Until Dawn

LONDON—(P)—Queen Elizabeth danced until the early hours today at her first ball since the death of her father, the late King George VI.

The young queen and her sister, Princess Margaret, were among the 400 guests at the ball given by the Marquess of Londonderry and the Earl and Countess of Leicester to mark the coming out of their daughters, Lady Annabel Stewart, 18, and Lady Carey Coke, 17.

Dancing continued until a dawn breakfast.

The British court ended its official mourning period for the late King on June 1.

Young Sailors Saved On Crippled Craft

PORT ELGIN, Ont. — (P) — Richard Cotter and Ronald Rowland, both of Mount Clemens, Mich., were rescued early today from their crippled sailing vessel on Lake Huron.

High winds tore the sails from their vessel last night and their auxiliary motor ran out of gas.

When rough weather prevented rescuers from responding to a distress signal, the two young sailors were able to anchor and ride out the storm.

Tired Of Strike

DETROIT — (P) — The River Rouge City Council by a 4-2 vote adopted a resolution asking President Truman to end the steel strike by using the Taft-Hartley law, seizing the industry or any other means. The council said the steel strike has created dangerous unemployment in River Rouge affecting 1,500 families.

SNOWBALL FIGHT IN JULY? — Russell Green, 9, of Levittown, N. Y., holds a placard advertising his unique summer treat—nice, cold snowballs, which he's been hoarding in the family's deep freezer. Russell only intended to sell them for cooling-off purposes, but the little boy at left thinks it's a fine time to revive a favorite winter sport.

Louisiana Action Gives Eisenhower 11 More Delegates

terday. This lineup was changed today when Pennsylvania shifted its credentials committee vote to make it 29-22.

Few At Convention

With the Louisiana decision, the credentials committee, working in the downtown Congress Hotel, took up the 38 disputed Texas seats.

The convention itself, in effect marking time while the committee readies its reports, got its session underway with only a scattering of delegates, and very few spectators, present.

A lead-off speaker, Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine, called on the Republicans to unite to "turn the Democrats out and save America."

The 70-member California delegation in a caucus before the convention session voted 57 to 8 to support the pro-Eisenhower position on the Georgia delegation contest.

The action came as the first possible indication of the leanings of the big bloc toward General Dwight D. Eisenhower in the event that his pledged choice, Governor Earl Warren, drops out of the running for the Presidential nomination.

Making No Deals
Backers of Eisenhower made it clear quickly and emphatically that they had made no deal with the Taft people.

Wesley Roberts, one of the chief Eisenhower strategists, told a reporter the anticipated floor fight later today over other contested delegates will go on as scheduled.

"Our guns are loaded and we are ready to go," Roberts said.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Eisenhower campaign manager, whipped out a statement expressing pleasure over the committee action. But Lodge added:

"Just so there can be no misunderstanding, however, I want to make it perfectly clear that the Eisenhower forces will not accept any 'deals' or compromises on the contested delegates."

No Change In Korean Armistice Prospects After Secret Meeting

MUNSAN, Korea — (P) — The first year of Korean armistice negotiations ended today with the United Nations and Communist delegates meeting in secret for 26 minutes.

A prisoner exchange deadlock is the key issue blocking a truce. Brig. Gen. William P. Buckles, U. N. command spokesman, said, "there was no change in the attitude of either side."

Another executive session is scheduled for Pannunjom tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday EST)

Three Dead As Car Is Hit By Train

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. — (P) — Martin Schaff, 46, of Elmira; his wife Ruth, 45, and their son David, 7, were killed yesterday in the collision of their car with a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train.

The accident occurred at the M-72 crossing two miles east of Williamsburg.

The Schaffs are survived by two daughters, 19 and 20 years old.

Steel Strike Cuts Freight Car Output

WASHINGTON — (P) — Railroad officials blame the steel strike in part for cutting June output of new railway freight cars to 6,411 units. Deliveries in June, 1951 were 9,644 cars.

The American Railway Car Institute and the Association of American Railroads said yesterday May, 1952 production totalled 6,857 cars and the backlog of new orders on July 1 amounted to 99,615 units.

Briefly Told

Brrr—It's Cold—The chilly 43 degrees observed this morning by the Escanaba weather bureau and Escanabans in general was the lowest ever recorded for July 9. The previous low was 45 in 1899.

Rattlesnake Named Stalin Dies Enroute To Elks Convention

DETROIT — (P)—A 6-foot diamond-back rattlesnake named Stalin died yesterday on the road between Battle Creek and Detroit.

Stalin and three fellow snakes named Molotov, Vishinsky and Malik were being transported in a case in the trunk of a car to the national Elks convention opening in New York City Sunday.

Custodians of the snakes were four Elks from New Mexico — Ray Arias and Mel Sandoval of Santa Fe and Roy J. Cunningham and Bill Colvert of Carlsbad.

They shed no tears over Stalin. But they were a bit put out that the quartet had been reduced to a threesome. They plan to have the reptiles, fangs and all, on exhibit at the Elks convention to show brother Elks what New Mexicans think of Communists.

They found Stalin dead upon arriving in Detroit from Battle Creek. The survivors appeared lively enough to stand the rest of the journey to New York.

Marriages Way Down In U. S. Last Year

WASHINGTON — (P) — The American mating call was muted last year. Marriages were away down. So were divorces.

The public health service said yesterday the 1951 marriage rate apparently dipped to the lowest point since 1938—1,594,900 marriages, 10.4 per thousand population, and a reduction of 72,300 from 1950.

The 1951 total is 37 per cent below the record set in 1946.

There were an estimated 371,000 divorces in 1951—2.4 per every 1,000 persons—compared with 385,100 in 1950.

The 1951 divorce total was 44 per cent below the 1946 record.

Family-Owned Shows Booked By U. P. State Fair

The Blue Ribbon Shows of Shawano, Wisconsin, an outstanding outdoor amusement enterprise, have been booked to play the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba Aug. 19-24, inclusive, it has been announced by John MacInnis, secretary-manager.

The Blue Ribbon Shows is a family-owned carnival of good reputation. It does not permit girl shows or gypsy concessions. All of the shows and concessions are operated under rigid inspection of the Wisconsin supervisor of district and county fairs and at the request of the owners, E. A. Board and son, Reg, the shows and concessions will be inspected in Escanaba by the Michigan State Police, Delta County Sheriff's Department and Escanaba Police Department.

The company travels with 34 trucks of equipment including the following rides and shows: 36-horse merry-go-round, caterpillar ride, fly-o-plane, tilt-a-whirl, scooter, little dipper, roll-o-whirl, spitfire planes, octopus, rock-o-plane, kiddie water boat ride, kiddie auto ride, live ponies, kiddie train, kiddie rocket plane, terry wheel, circus side show of 10 acts, motor dome, big snake monster, Mickey Mouse show, wrestling show, western show, penny arcade with strictly approved pictures, fun house, mechanical farm and deep sea marine life show.

The Blue Ribbon Shows have been recommended to the U. P. State Fair board of managers by the Royal American Shows, the world's largest, Barnes Caruthers Enterprises and others.

The company will play the Wisconsin Valley Fair at Wausau, Wisconsin, the week preceding the U. P. State Fair here.

U-M Camp Near Iron River Holds Open House July 12-13

ANN ARBOR — Faculty and students at the University of Michigan's Camp Flibbert Roth near Iron River will hold open house from 2 to 5 p. m. Saturday and Sunday, July 12 and 13.

Highlight of the affair will be the dedication of a new $45,000 dining hall at ceremonies scheduled for 3 p. m. Saturday.

Tours of the camp facilities on Golden Lake will be conducted by students studying forestry, wildlife management and fisheries as part of their University courses. Exhibits of native plants, fish, animal skins, fungi and insects will be displayed. Tools used in forestry work will be demonstrated by students.

On the program for the dedication are talks by Abbott Fox, Iron River lumberman whose father M. J. Fox gave the original land and camp buildings to the University; Bruce Buell of the Northern Paper Mills, Green Bay, an alumnus of the University; Howard Billings, Iron River, president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau; and Stanley G. Fontanna, dean of the University School of Natural Resources which operates the camp.

John Carow, camp director, will preside. Attending from Ann Arbor will be Robert Craig, Jr., former camp director and retired professor of wood utilization.

The dining room overlooks the lake and can accommodate more than 100 persons. A modern kitchen, living quarters for the cooks and laundry space are included in the building.

The summer camp just off U. S. Highway 2 between Iron River and Watersmeet has been part of the forestry and conservation instruction program of the University since 1935.

Dead Kentucky Soldier Gets Medal Of Honor

WASHINGTON — (P) — The defense department announced today the posthumous award of the medal of honor to Private First Class David M. Smith of Livingston, Ky. who smothered the explosion of an enemy grenade with his body.

By his action the 23-year-old regular army soldier gave his life to save five nearby comrades during a bitter night battle near Yongsan, Korean, on Sept. 1, 1950.

This is the 51st medal of honor awarded to an army man during the Korean conflict. Presentation arrangements will be announced later.

Smith's father, William D. Smith, lives in Livingston.

Boost For Cherries

TRAVERSE CITY—(P)—A. J. Rogers, Traverse City canner, reported Tuesday the government has agreed to purchase up to 500,000 cases of red-tart cherries from the 1952 pack. The cherries will be used in the school lunch program. It is believed here the order will bolster the price of cherries on the open market.

Ships Lent To Japan

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States is lending Japan 18 frigates and 50 landing craft to help build up that country's new Coast Guard. President Truman yesterday signed a bill authorizing the loan.

BIG "APPLE" — "Cabezonas," — as pineapples are known in Palmarco, Puerto Rico, grow big, juicy and sweet, and Domingo Rivera has reason for that wide grin as he looks forward to a 10-pound treat.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Among the Navy men aboard the heavy cruiser USS Macon which will take part in the training of more than 9,000 Naval Reservists and Naval Academy Midshipmen this summer is Kenneth W. Paul, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. William H. Boyle of Bark River, Mich.

NEW LONDON, Conn.—Many men join the Navy to see the world, but some also get a chance to play softball, such as those serving aboard the submarine tender USS Fulton which has twelve ball teams with such players as Walter C. Sutter, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sutter of 1201 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, Mich.

When Sutter isn't pitching, he plays an outfield position. A graduate of Gladstone High School, Sutter entered the Navy last year.

Busier than bees are the men in "Operation Beehive" in the Mediterranean, especially such men serving aboard the destroyer USS Melvin as Gerald C. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Anderson of 910 South 17th St., Escanaba, Mich., and husband of Mrs. Gerald C. Anderson of 332 Jefferson St., Vallejo, Calif.

Dwaine R. Newberry, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Newberry of Route 1, Gladstone, Mich., serving aboard the battleship USS Missouri, embarked on a two-month European training cruise for midshipmen from the Naval Academy and twenty-eight Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps Units.

Gladstone State Trooper Promoted And Transferred

Cpl. Gordon A. Hanthorne, of Gladstone Post, promoted to sergeant and transferred to command of the Rockford Post.

Trooper Michael J. Lalich of the L'Anse Post, promoted to corporal and transferred to Gladstone.

Trooper James W. Weiers of the White Pigeon Post, promoted to corporal and transferred to Cheboygan.

Troopers James Riley of Keego Harbor, transferred to Flat Rock, Henry A. Delooff of Flat Rock, to Keego Harbor and Sam S. Afendikis of Sandusky, to White Pigeon.

Handy Neighbors Save Moscow, Mich., In Fire

MOSCOW, Mich. — (P) — Good neighbors saved Moscow from being swept by fire yesterday.

An exploding gasoline tank in an automobile started a fire that destroyed a garage and service station. Fire departments from North Adams, Jonesville and Hanover kept the blaze from spreading. Damage was estimated at $26,000.

Moscow (Pop. 150) is a village on US-12 in Southern Michigan.

Tommy Manville Set To Take Ninth Bride

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.—(P)—Playboy asbestos heir Tommy Manville, 58, has a license for his ninth marriage—to 29-year-old Anita Frances Roddy-Eden, who's never been married before.

Manville and the dancer-writer obtained their license yesterday and plan to be married here tomorrow.

Hoover Counsels Republicans To Save Free U. S. A.

corded the night before to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the convention's keynote speaker.

While the organ boomed and the crowd roared, Hoover stood smiling and shiny-eyed on the floodlighted rostrum. One delegation after another shot up its banners and marched through the aisles — the first such mass demonstration of the giant gathering.

Hoover's speech brought these vocal tributes:

"An outstanding speech by a great American," said Sen. William Knowland of California. "I think he raised some grave questions which are of concern to all our people."

Sen. William Jenner of Indiana said: "A great American spoke from his heart. The country will heed his words of wisdom or we are lost."

Others — like Oregon's Sen. Wayne Morse and Gov. Douglas McKay and California Reps. John Phillips and Patrick Hillings — echoed their words.

No Substitute For Victory

Hoover's 4,500-word address was punctuated with rhetorical questions—each drawing yelled answers from the delegates.

He charged the Democrats lost the peace so bitterly won in World War II by appeasement of the Communists. He said the administration sent legions of men and billions of dollars to Europe and the Orient, but has failed to halt Communism.

"Gen. MacArthur well said that in war there is no substitute for victory," Hoover said and, at another point:

"The effective deterrent which American resources can contribute is not bayonets against overwhelming land forces, but the expansion of air power and navies to make up a great striking force."

Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona followed Hoover to the speakers' stand. He accused "the little men at the top" of misleading the United States away from the lessons of the founding fathers.

"We the people of the United States, filled with a new sense of solid Americanism," Pyle said, "must move into the breach and with honest minds and earnest hearts meet the issues of this crucial year."

Wayne University Dean Takes Job As Ferris President

DETROIT — (P) — Wayne University here, lost its second top level administrative official in a month yesterday when Dean Victor F. Spathoff, 42, announced his resignation to accept an appointment as president of Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.

Dr. David Henry, president of the Detroit University last month announced his resignation to accept the post of executive vice chancellor at New York University.

The 42-year-old Spathoff served as dean of students at Wayne, Spathoff, who will take over his new duties at Ferris this September, will be the youngest college president in Michigan.

A graduate of the college of the city of Detroit, which later became Wayne University, Spathoff came to Wayne in 1941 as acting director of the division of student personnel. He became dean of students in 1945.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK — (P)—A flicker of trading interest appeared today in the stock market from time to time, but nothing ever came of it.

Prices spread thinly in small fractions either way with a handful of issues making better than average progress.

Trading again today was at a slow pace around the million share daily rate. The total yesterday came to only 850,000 shares, lowest since May 19.

Some oils came to life. Union Oil of California was up a major fraction after trading in large blocks up 3-8 to 45.

Kern County Land, which added 9 points in three sessions, was up around 3 points today. Barber Oil added 4.

New oil strikes on Kern County Land in California caused the fireworks, and the enthusiasm for West Coast oils is spreading.

Northern Pacific, which depends on oil in the Williston Basin for its buyer appeal, added around a point and bolstered the railroad group.

Steels and motors were steady. General Motors was moderately active and made the most upside progress in its group.

Aircrafts were ahead with Boeing standing in front.

Higher stocks included Chesapeake & Ohio, Anaconda Copper, American Cyanamid, General Electric, R. S. Squibb, and Zenith. Lower were Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, American Can, and Union Pacific.

Gas Pipeline Break Sets Off Big Fire West Of York, Pa.

YORK, Pa. — (P)—A natural gas pipeline burst with a roar and set off a huge fire in a field 15 miles west of York early this morning. There were no injuries reported immediately.

A spokesman for the Texas Eastern Transmission Company said work crews have been sent to the area to determine if the break was in a Texas Eastern line. He said the company operates two pipelines through York county, including the Big and Little Inch which stretch from Texas to New Jersey.

The York County Gas Company located the break at Red Run, a crossroad community 15 miles west of York. York County is in southeastern Pennsylvania, along the Maryland-Pennsylvania line.

Flames from the fire were visible in York and fire companies from the entire area were alerted. The roar of the burning gas was discernable in York.

Democrats Hope To Avoid Bigotry

WASHINGTON — Chairman Frank E. McKinney of the Democratic national committee said today "the Democratic party will not inject racial prejudice or religious bigotry" into the 1952 political campaigns.

McKinney made the pledge in a letter to six Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders.

Responding to an appeal from the clergymen, McKinney said the "Democratic Party will not condone any such activity in behalf of any of its candidates" and will "vigorously condemn and disavow any such activity should it develop."

McKinney said he is forwarding the clergymen's appeal for prevention of racial and religious bigotry to the platform committee of the Democratic national convention "because I am certain that this group will desire to state the position of the Democratic Party against bigotry and prejudice in language that will be clear to all."

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 10 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Straits Ferries Set New Weekend Record

LANSING — (P)—State ferries carried 27,813 vehicles across the Straits of Mackinac over the Fourth of July holiday weekend, the State Highway Department said.

The total was an increase of 74.6 per cent over the 15,781 vehicles carried during the same period last year.

Two new records were set during the weekend. The ferries carried 7,620 during the 24-hour period on the Fourth compared to the previous high of 7,397 on Aug. 4, 1951.

The 5,643 vehicles carried one way on the Fourth from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace also shattered the previous one-way peak of 4,300 on Aug. 4, 1951.

Rats Show Yen For Money In Japan

NAGOYA, Japan — (P)—Kintaro Murakami, a lumber dealer, didn't like banks. He hid yen worth $150 behind a picture frame.

One day he found it gone. He called police. They found his hoard, but it was in the ceiling. Rats had torn it into bits to make a nest.

LANSING — (AP) — Marston J. De Boer, formerly in charge of the Lansing office of the Conservation Department Fish Division, has been named to head all fish hatchery activities in the state.

De Boer, with the department for 27 years, will coordinate activities of the 12 fish hatcheries and nine trout-rearing stations.

Spencer M. Bower, coordinator of commercial fishing activities, will also head the Lansing office of the fish division.

Escanaban Builds House Trailer

ED VIAU, 1416 Stephenson Avenue, is shown here with the house trailer that he built himself at a cost of only $400. The trailer is 12 feet long, 6½ feet wide and is made of pressed wood.

VIAU AND HIS THREE SONS, Jimmie, 8, Patrick, 4, and Junior, 10, are shown here in the trailer while Ed prepares lunch. The trailer is ideal for camping and vacation trips.

MRS. ED VIAU AND DAUGHTER Roselyn, 3, relax and read in one of the two beds in the trailer. The Viaus concede that quarters are a little cramped but suitable nonetheless for family vacation trips.

Madison Attorney Seeks Nomination To Oppose McCarthy

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — U. S. Attorney Thomas E. Fairchild announced he would be a Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Fairchild, 39, former Wisconsin attorney general, said he is resigning his present position to immediately campaign for the nomination.

"I have entered the race," he said, "because it is my earnest belief it is vital to Wisconsin and to America to replace Sen. McCarthy (R-Appleton) and to repudiate his methods."

On May 19 Fairchild said he would not be a candidate. Henry S. Reuss, Milwaukee attorney, earlier announced his candidacy for the U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket.

Girder Fall Fatal

Senator Almost Forgets Mother Of Bride-To-Be

By RUTH COWAN

CHICAGO—(P)—In the hubbub of campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft had to do a double-take to recognize the mother of the girl his son is going to marry.

It happened at a reception yesterday in Taft's honor.

The Ohio senator's headquarters formally announced on Monday the engagement of Horace Taft, 27, to Mary Jane Badger, 22, daughter of Mrs. Mary Bancroft of Zurich, Switzerland, and Sherwin C. Badger of Boston.

The story of how cupid got mixed up in a presidential convention is this:

Horace, now doing graduate work in physics at the University of Chicago, wanted the announcement made before the nominations. It was something that has nothing to do with politics—win or lose.

His fiancée agreed, but she, having been brought up in Switzerland, didn't know much about the carnival atmosphere of a presidential nominating convention.

Mary Jane and Horace, who is the youngest of the Tafts' four sons, first met in Switzerland two years ago. Horace was studying abroad after graduating from Yale university.

She and her mother came back to the United States in April. They met the Tafts in Washington and were invited to Chicago for the convention. And after all, Horace was in school here.

Then, after the engagement announcement came this reception—one of numerous such affairs—and when Mrs. Bancroft came down the line with hundreds of others, Sen. Taft shook her hand and said: "So glad to know you."

Extend Campaign For Women In The Service To 1953

The campaign started November 11 to obtain 72,000 women for all nine women branches of the service has been extended to Jan. 1, 1953 and persons in this area who desire information are asked to contact the WAC/WAF recruiters at the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, 807 Ludington St. The telephone number is 2944.

The campaign originally was scheduled to close July 1 but up to that time only 10,900 young women had responded to the call.

The high standards for enlistment in the Women's Army Corps or Women in the Air Force require that a young woman be between the ages of 18-34 inclusive, single, a high school graduate or able to pass an equivalent test, a citizen of the U. S., physically fit, and of good moral character. After meeting these basic requirements prospective applicants must pass an Armed Forces Qualification Test and undergo a thorough investigation of her character and reputation, including a report from her schools, former employers, a certificate that she has no kind of police record, and personal references from at least two prominent citizens. Finally she must pass two oral interviews.

Although a girl must be single to enlist, there are a few officer programs whereby married women who meet the qualifications of education and experience may obtain commissions.

The women responding to the military's need is neither replacing nor releasing a man from combat, Airman 1/c Mary Coleman of the Recruiting Station emphasizes. She is doing a job for which she is suited and trained. She is needed because of the skill or proficiency she has to offer. As more women become members of the military, men have a better chance of rotation from combat, or if they have already served, they have a lesser chance of being called again after they have established their families and careers or started their college education.

Church Events

Salem Lutheran Church Meeting
A special meeting of the Salem Lutheran church congregation will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. All voting members are urged to attend.

Bethany Aid Thursday
The Ladies' Aid of Bethany Lutheran Church will meet in the church parlors Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Hostesses are Mrs. Andrew Nelson, Mrs. C. P. Johnson and Mrs. Leslie Carlson.

Testing and constant use in Michigan State College household equipment laboratories have proved that plastic varnishes and sheet coverings will produce easy-to-keep surfaces that repel many stains or heat discolorations.

In planning meals give attention to variety. Avoid all hot or all cold foods and try to include as many colors as possible. Do not repeat a food in the same meal—such as tomato soup and tomato salad.

Every activity demands its own type of shoe. General and spectator sports shoes may serve a double purpose for walking and general utility wear.

BRIDE OF Lieutenant William K. Nemzin of this city is the former Lou Beth Jagoda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jagoda of Houston, Tex. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi William Malav in the Castilian Room of the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, and was followed by a reception in the Ming Room. The bride is a graduate of the University of Houston and the University of Texas. Lt. Nemzin, a son of Mrs. George Nemzin and the late Mr. Nemzin, received his degree from the University of Michigan and is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu.

AS WE LIVE

Wait For This Man: He Has Character

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
When a man marries, he promises to stay with his wife in sickness and in health. This promise holds good when the sickness comes from alcoholism. That is why the woman who loves this man should not ask him to divorce his wife.

(Q) "I have been a widow for nine years and am 40 years old. I have three wonderful children, two in the service. I have met a man my age and we are very much in love. His wife is an alcoholic and has just been released from a sanatorium. Inside she's burned out with alcohol and the doctor tells him she won't live much longer. He has four children. The eldest is a girl 17 who keeps house for the family. He has asked me to wait for him as he will not divorce his wife now. What shall I do? Wait for him or forget him?"

(A) If you love this man, wait until he is free to come to you. It is his responsibility to stay with his wife and take care of her, even if excessive drinking has killed his love and respect for her. If she is in the last stages of alcoholism, she will not live much longer. Even if she fools the doctors and lives longer than they predict, it will still be worth your while to wait if you and he really love each other.

While teenage children frequently resent a stepmother, in this case I am sure it will be different. The children of the man you love have had a hard childhood with an alcoholic mother.

Your marriage to this man will take a tremendous burden off the shoulders of the older daughter who has had to be mother and housekeeper. It will give her the freedom to have a good time with other girls of her age enjoy today.

As for the younger children, they too will profit by your coming into their lives. It is hard on them to be taken care of by an older sister who knows little more than they and they will welcome a mother, even if she is a stepmother.

Your own children may find it hard to adjust to a new home, a stepfather, and step-sisters and brothers. But, as two of them are already away from home, the situation will not be too difficult. Since you and this man are deeply in love, you should be able to iron out any problem that comes up in your marriage.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

Spicy cranberry sauce is a delicious accompaniment to chicken or duck. Open a can of whole cranberry sauce the night before serving and bury a two-inch stick of cinnamon and a half-dozen cloves in the sauce; cover tightly and store in the refrigerator. Remove the cinnamon and cloves before serving.

Ice cream mixture will taste less sweet after it is frozen in your hand-turned freezer, so add sugar accordingly.

Nancy Gouin And Emerald Mercier Wed At Isabella

ISABELLA—Miss Nancy Gouin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gouin of Isabella became the bride of Emerald Mercier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mercier of Garden. The wedding took place in St. Anne's Church before an altar banked with pink and white peonies and flanked by white tapewares. Fr. Gervase Brewer officiated with the bride's brother, Joseph serving as altar boy. Raymond Cayemborg also acted as altar assistant.

The mass was sung by Miss Corinne Bernier with Mrs. Reggie Hebert as her accompanist.

The bride wore a white satin gown with nylon and lace trim. Her veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap. She carried pink and white carnations with white satin streamers. Her maid of honor, Miss Noreen Mercier, wore Nile green with a matching head-dress and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. As bridesmaid, Miss Eileen Mercier was gowned in rose with a headdress to match and she carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. Both girls are sisters of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gouin chose a navy blue sheer print with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother also wore navy blue with white accessories. Both mothers had white carnation corsages.

Attending the bridegroom was Harley Dalgord and Robert Johnson served as usher.

The wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents and the reception followed at the Mercier home. A wedding dance was held in the Garden community hall.

They will make their home in Garden for the present.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gouin, Kalama; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gouin, Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gouin, Escanaba; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gouin, Nahma.

by Sue Donimus

A NEW quatrain by Richard A. Armour says:
"The pre-election season
Impels one to remark
That Presidential timber
Is very largely bark."

But if you think that the timber at the Stephenson Lumber Company is just wrong tree, you're barking up the wrong tree. Their dry, seasoned lumber has satisfied so many particular customers that it wins by a landslide vote every time. You'll want to stop out at this well stocked lumber yard for every building need.
—Timber!—You'll fall for the wood at Stephenson's!

THE new straw belts at the Fair Store are one thing you'll like to see go to wait! If it's your waist, that is! I really exclaimed over these dressy straws that come in either a twisted braid or straight weave. The neutral colors will blend with most any costume; there's white, natural, and combinations of yellow and gray, or natural and browns. And always at the Fair Store it's a Fair price—these smart straw belts are only $1.00 for either the inch or inch-and-a-half width. Which leads me to that old one—Hey! Straw's cheaper! It's the truth at the Fair!

AFTER wandering around the basement yesterday I come up with some words of wisdom—It makes cents to shop at Pennyc's! Honest, honey, you can't miss with that 100% wool, 3 lb. blanket that's priced at just $7.99. It even has a satin binding, is 72 by 84 inches and comes in luscious colors! Another fantastic bargain is the 3½ lb. all wool multiple stripe blanket at $13.75—a wonder of warmth and wearability! Many other blanket bargains at Pennyc's to convince you they're not trying to pull the wool over your eyes—just under your chin!

THE Morrison Shop has delivered the knockout blow to your problem of dressing a stout boy. They champion the heavy weights by stocking Husky Boys jeans and trousers! It's hard to find clothes that are cut correctly for well padded, growing boys—now the Morrison Shop has the answer! Sizes are 28 to 34. The trousers are made of Fieldclub cloth, a washable material that holds a crease well and comes in summer weights. And best of all—it's a quality fabric that's made to stand abuse! The jeans, too, are first rate! If he's overweight, don't over wait! Rush to Morrison's for Husky Boys trousers!

A GAL friend of mine drives a pretty sharp bargain—a Studebaker! You can drive a bargain like this yourself if you'll stop at Peterson and Jacobsen Auto Service, 2002 Ludington. Ask to see the Studebaker Starliner, America's smartest hard-top. It's a convertible that's easy on the eyes—and the pocketbook! The 1952 Studebakers proved in the Mobilgas Economy Run how remarkably they economize on gasoline. At Peterson and Jacobsen's they'll show you what makes the wheels go round. Studebaker is a Big Wheel for my money!

THE installment plan has been described as "a system by means of which you can doll up on a dollar down!" But who needs installment buying with such mark downs as are taking place at Gartner's! One pert, ribbed rayon frock in beige with brown velvet belt and buttons has been reduced from $15.95 to a wee $9.66. A serviceable navy crepe with white collars and cuffs has plunged from $19.95 to $11.66. High-style frocks at low-tag prices! Also Gartner's irregular nylons at only 77¢ a pair—three pairs for $2.25—a bargain to shout from the horse tops!

KEEPING a secret from a woman is like trying to smuggle daylight past a rooster! Something worth crowing about are the Catalina sport clothes at Young's Haberdashery . . . and it's no secret that the slickest chicks under the sun are wearing sport togs with the famous Catalina name band. Especially attractive at Young's are the plaid cotton or plain gabardine shorts. Topped with a white, scoop neckline shirt—oooh, sweetheart! Terry cloth shirts—so practical for washing—come in white and yellow. Priced at $2.50 . . . and an extra soft terry cloth at $3.50. Catalina swim suits begin at $4.50 and will get you along swimmingly at the beach. So hurry to Young's, chicken!

SCHIAPARELLI has decided to throw in the sponge! I discovered this amazing fact at Gust Asp's where I saw the clever new bath sponges designed for the traveler. Just drop one of these scented sponges into your bath or wash basin and it turns into a luxurious wash cloth, delicately scented. No wash cloths in the hotels or hotels these days—so the feminine traveler will delight in these handy Schiaparelli Bath Sponges that are expendable— you simply use one and throw it away! A handy tube of ten sponges, just $1.75. Gust Asp to the rescue if you plan to go clean across the country!

Baby Boy, 2, Wants Cigars On Birthday

NEWARK, N. J.—(P)—Little Jimmy McLaughlin has exacted a solemn promise from his mommy for his second birthday Aug. 3—a big box of Italian stogies just for himself.

Jimmy—blue eyes, blond hair and always ready to talk a blue streak—was getting a little tired of smooching his father's cigars. He began smoking when he was eight months old.

"He picked up daddy's cigar one day," said his pretty 23-year-old mother, "and there's been no holding him ever since. He's unbearable all day long unless he has his early-morning cigarette."

She estimates his daily consumption at six cigarettes and one cigar.

Jimmy, who has been carrying on conversations since he was one, says he likes fun and girls in addition to cigars and wants to play baseball for the Giants.

The comment of his physician, Dr. Nathan Zuckerberg: "Definitely a precocious child."

Brothers Are Reunited After 47 Year Lapse

Forty-seven years ago in Belgium the Bruntjens brothers, Jules and Andrew, parted as the former, then 22, left for America to seek his fortune. Five years later Andrew followed to the land of opportunity, but their paths never crossed and it wasn't until this week when Andrew arrived here from Winnipeg, Canada, for a visit that the two brothers again saw each other.

Needless to say, the reunion was a happy one.

The brothers parted at Water-vliet, Belgium, near the Holland

Rev. Crawford Assumes Charge

The Rev. Meldon Crawford arrived here yesterday from Lake Linden to assume his new post as pastor of Memorial Methodist Church. He succeeds the Rev. Glenn Kjellberg, who is now at Ne-gaunee.

A native of Allentown, Mich., Rev. Crawford attended school at Memphis, Michigan, graduating with the class of 1928. He later studied and was graduated from Albion College and then studied at Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill.

He served Methodist churches in Hermansville from 1940 to 1943, at Manistique from 1943 to 1946 and at Lake Linden from 1946 to the present.

He is married to the former Marian Grenfell of Ishpeming, a sister of J. Donald Grenfell of Gladstone, and there are two children in the family, David James 3 and Mary Louise 1.

No services will be held this Sunday in Memorial Methodist Church as Rev. Crawford will be attending the senior camp at the Youth Institute at Lake Michigan.

Chiropractors To Meet At Blaney

Dr. Clifford A. Kinnie, Gladstone, president of the Upper Peninsula Chiropractic Society, announces that the annual educational convention will be held at Blaney Park beginning on Friday, July 11 and continuing through Sunday, July 13.

Principal speakers will be Dr. J. Janse, Chicago, president of the National College of Chiropractic; Dr. Smeltz, Milwaukee, and Dr. Frank Logic, Iron Mountain.

Dr. Carl Gustafson, Marquette, is program chairman and Dr. E. A. Branyon, Manistique, is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Attending the convention from Delta county will be Drs. C. A. and E. A. Kinnie of Gladstone and Drs. Berger Johnson and E. A. Christie, Escanaba.

The convention banquet will be held on Saturday evening.

AMPHIBIOUS

Largest amphibious animal is the giant salamander, an entirely aquatic species, found in Japan and parts of China. It may attain a length of between five and six feet, and there is a record of five feet seven inches for a specimen caught in China. Natives often use it for food.

Kallerson Urges Control Of Speed

Motorists should think about the effects of speed before—not after—they step on the gas, Chief Torval Kallerson of the Gladstone Police Department said in discussing the statewide campaign on speed control sponsored by the State Safety Commission.

"Many drivers," Kallerson said, "fail to realize just how destructive fast driving is."

"For instance, a car that strikes a solid object at 60 miles an hour hits with the same impact as if it were driven off the top of a ten-story building."

"No one would think of driving off the top of a building, but many actually risk doing the equivalent of that when they get out on the highway and tear loose."

"A look at a wrecked car will show the destructive power of speed. But smashed fenders, ripped tops, bent frames and shattered glass represent only the mechanical damage. The big loss is the toll of persons injured or killed."

"Attempts to save a few minutes of time are not worth the risk involved and certainly not the tragedy that often results."

Speed control will prevent accidents and save lives. Drive safely and live longer."

Senator Stresses Advance In Bridge And Seaway Plans

Progress made in advancing the Mackinac Straits bridge and the St. Lawrence seaway were two of the outstanding accomplishments of the present session of Congress, particularly as far as Michigan interests are concerned, it was stated Monday evening by U. S. Senator Blair Moody in a talk at the Court House here.

Senator Moody's talk also was broadcast over Escanaba radio station WDBC via a telephonic hookup.

The Mackinac bridge project, he said, was advanced to a point which should see it underway in a very short time. The speaker related that the importance of the project had been discussed by him and others with President Truman who promised to intercede with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in getting funds made available for the work.

Seaway Important
Although efforts to get the St. Lawrence seaway project approved at the 1952 session failed, Senator Moody said he was confident the program would get approval at the next congressional session.

The speaker stressed the importance of the seaway, declaring that it was vital to the defense of the country, would make seaports out of Great Lakes harbors, and would provide a quick means of transporting newly discovered iron ore in Labrador to American steel mills.

The seaway, he said, has had the backing of every presidential candidate during the past quarter century, and all present candidates for the presidential nomination are for the project.

Other accomplishments of the Congress this year, he said, included a significant advancement in national defense, broadening of the social security program, extension of GI rights to Korean veterans, and advancement of a plan to provide combat pay for soldiers serving in Korea.

Facing Great Danger
The United States is now facing the greatest opportunity and the greatest danger it has ever confronted, Senator Moody said.

Military experts have pointed out, he said, that the science of killing has advanced more sharply since 1945 than in all the years between 1945 and the invention of gunpowder.

The Communist nations also are making the same advances in the science of modern warfare, and this country no longer has a monopoly on atomic energy and other military weapons.

Our only hope for national survival, he said, is to make our nation so strong that Soviet Russia will be discouraged from launching an attack against us. Military might is the only logic they understand, he said, and we dare not curtail our defense efforts through false economy or by playing "politics" with our rearmament program.

Answers Questions
Senator Moody sharply criticized those Congressmen and Senators who have repudiated the foreign policy principles of the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg and who preach a slash in defense expenditures to get votes—when the safety of the nation against a powerful and ruthless foe is at stake.

At the conclusion of his talk Senator Moody answered numerous questions asked by audience members.

In answer to a question on the possibility of balancing the federal budget and reducing taxes, the speaker said that first the country must make itself strong to the point of safety, and second, should revise its budget system to include a committee of non-political experts whose task it would be to study and analyze the nation's budgetary needs. He said that defense expenditures, once the nation has made up for previous delays, will taper off, and stated that the defense bill should be spread over a five-year plan as a "package" proposal instead of loading its peak costs on two or three annual budgets.

T-H Law Needs Revision
In answer to other questions, Senator Moody said the Taft-Hartley law needed revision, declared that Congress should have passed legislation giving the President emergency powers to settle the steel strike after seizure was outlawed by the courts, and stated that the present policy in Korea was probably the safest for the nation until our defense program has been completed.

Answering a question on Universal Military Training, the speaker said that he would be for it if world conditions proved that the United States had to have a large force of trained men in order to exist as a nation. The safety of the nation, he said, was the determining factor in his attitude toward UMT.

Senator Moody was introduced by John W. Kelly, of Manistique, chairman of the Schoolcraft County Democratic Committee.

Engadine Girl Marries Ohio Man Saturday

Miss Leona Bessler, daughter of Mrs. August Bessler, of Engadine, became the bride of Harold R. Howland, son of Carmon Howland, of Greenfield, Ohio, Saturday afternoon at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Engadine. Rev. O. Neumann performed the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the church organist.

The bride was attired in a nylon and lace gown trimmed with sequins. She had a long train of lace and nylon, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Marie Bessler was maid of honor and Miss Lorraine Teske bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns but of different color, pink and blue respectively. The gowns were of net over tulle. They carried bouquets of yellow and pink snapdragons.

Carl Leonhardt and Paul Bessler served as best men and Walter Price and Daniel Marcus seated the guests.

Mrs. Bessler attended her daughter's wedding in a navy and white street length dress with matching accessories.

The wedding supper was served following the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother for 150 guests. The couple left on a wedding trip to Mackinac Island. They will make their home at 733 West 25 Pl., Chicago, Ill.

Out-of-town guests attending were Miss Lydia Hense and Miss Mildred Bessler, of Chicago, Ill.

Olsens Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olsen, well known residents of the Green School area, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Saturday, July 5, with an open house at their home.

Flowers, yellow candles and a tiered wedding cake were arranged on the buffet table.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen were married in Charlevoix on July 5, 1902, and have been residents of the Green School area for the past 22 years. They operate a store and service station.

Relatives present for the Golden Wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin Olsen and children, Gladys, Robert, Peter, Audrey, Karen, Helen and Judith, of Van Dyke; Cecile Gillette, of Blaney Park; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Olsen and children, Ronnie, Charles and Linda, of Gulliver; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klagstad and Jimmie, of Gulliver; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kohvakka, of Flint; Mrs. Ella Konia and Mr. and Mrs. Jaworsky, of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gardner and Cora Stoker, of Goulet City; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Downen, of Gulliver.

Friends attending came from Gulliver, Blaney Park, Manistique, Detroit, Flint, Royal Oak and Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen were presented with many attractive gifts.

Contributions For Book Sale Sought By Hospital Group

A campaign to collect books, sheet music, pictures, picture frames and patterns for the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Auxiliary book sale is now underway.

The sale will be held at the Ford Garage at 1 p. m., Monday, July 28, and continuing for several days. Collection points in the city and the various rural areas have been established for collection of books and other sale items.

The contribution of books and other listed items is urged by the auxiliary members. The sale itself will present an opportunity for many persons to purchase new volumes at a greatly reduced price.

Proceeds of the sale will be used by the auxiliary to finance its various activities on behalf of the local hospital.

English spelling is among the most difficult of any of the world languages says the National Geographic Society.

Bratschi Funeral To Be Thursday

Funeral services for George Bratschi, 65, who died Monday afternoon at his home, 241 N. 2nd St., will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday, July 10, from the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home.

Burial will take place in the family lot in Fairview cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning this evening and until funeral time.

He was born Feb. 15, 1887, in Elk Rapids and had resided in Manistique the past 50 years. Mrs. Bratschi died in Sept. 1944. He was a former member of the Elks lodge.

He was employed as an engineer by the Michigan Dimension Company for the last 31 years. Surviving are one son, Gary, 11, of Manistique; three sisters, Mrs. Rose Orschel and Miss Sophia Bratschi, of Elk Rapids, and Miss Ida Bratschi, of Traverse City, and one grandchild.

C-C Office Is Busy These Days

One of the busiest spots in Manistique these days is the Chamber of Commerce office at Triangle Park where an average of over 60 persons a day are being registered.

Since July 1 a total of 655 persons have been registered at the office, with one member of each party usually filling out a file card and obtaining information on scenic spots, cabin or hotel accommodations and shopping and entertainment facilities.

During the last two weeks of June a total of 377 individuals were registered.

The average number of persons in each registering party has been slightly in excess of three, figures at the office disclose.

Included in the registrants are visitors from most of the states of the Union, many Canadian provinces, France, Syria and India, it is reported by Fred D. Heltman, chamber secretary.

Visitors from India and Syria were three engineering students at Purdue University. They were Ajet Dalla, of Calcutta; K. S. Thanravel, of Madras; and Irfan Hashem, of Damascus.

Registered from Paris, France, is Adolph A. Larichon. There were five in his party.

Besides taking care of the stream of visitors, the office also has been busy servicing various resorts with lists of persons seeking accommodations and answering inquiries received from prospective summer visitors.

Mrs. Elwood Taylor has been assisting Heltman at the office during the summer rush.

City Registration Exceeds 2700 Mark

As a result of approximately 60 new registrations received during the past few days, total registration in Manistique is now in excess of 2,700, it is reported by Alex Robertson, city clerk.

Almost half of the new registrations are for new voters reaching voting age, Robertson said.

The final day for registration was Monday, July 7.

The primary election will be held Tuesday, Aug. 5.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

A good many Detroit Tiger fans were cheered by one of the statements made by new manager Freddie Hutchinson shortly after his appointment last weekend. Hutch promised to ditch the offensive maneuver of Red Rolfe which called for a two-platoon system at the plate. Rolfe's habit of jerking players from the lineup when he felt the percentages demanded it drew a lot of criticism. Especially when he allowed heavy-hitting Vic Wertz and Johnny Groth to sit on the bench part of the time.

Ray Menard, former Escanaba Bear and Bark River hurler in Tri County League circles, has notched another win for Menominee in the Northern State League. Menard, who pitches for Ferris Institute during the school season, tossed a six-hitter and fanned six as Menominee beat Algoma 10-2 Sunday. Menominee holds down fourth place in the league standings.

Leo Legacy, Marinette-Menominee Golden Gloves trainer, recently lost the services of one of his prize prospects. Ken Campbell, former Marine welterweight who was highly regarded by Legacy, has returned to the East coast to make his home. Leo is entering a half-dozen boxers in the Manistique fight card slated for next month.

Dick Schram of Escanaba got a thorough picture of the United States Olympic track and field team which will compete at Helsinki, Finland, from July 19 to Aug. 4. Dick, Mrs. Schram and his mother motored to the West coast to take in the Olympic trials and finals in California. Dick himself narrowly missed an Olympic berth on the 1932 team as a pole vaulter.

Pony League Opening Tonight, Cleveland Scouts To Be Guests

Cleveland Indian major league baseball scouts will be guests of the local Pony League at Memorial Field tonight as all six teams go into action in an attractive tripleheader starting at 5:30. Opening night ceremonies will take place right after the first game at about 7:15.

The Elks Club and Insurance Association will take the field in the opener with the Elks rating a slight edge on the strength of their record of two wins and one loss. The Insurance entry has one victory and two defeats. Robert Hansen and Bud Bessonon will share pitching duties for the Elks with Puggy Doucette catching. The Insurance Association will open with John Vadnais on the mound and Bunny Martin behind the plate.

In the second game at 7:15, Kiwanis Club will be out to win its first game of the season at the expense of Della Hardware. Kiwanis will start Don Anderson or Don Merrier on the hill and Mike Goymerac will catch. Lefty Bill Rangnette, who shut out AFL Union, 2 to 0, in his last start, will chuck for the Hardware and Jim Brown will be the receiver.

A pitcher's battle between Don Trotter of AFL Unions and Bob Rodman of Gauthier's is expected in the finals at 9 o'clock. Ray Warner will be handling Trotter's slants for the Unions entry and Butch Johnson will be behind the plate for Gauthier's.

Opening night formalities will include an address by Pony League president, Francis Rooney, and the traditional throwing out of the first ball by Mayor Robert LeMire.

Publinx Champ In Third Round

MIAMI, Fla.—A 21-year-old UCLA sophomore was the most closely-watched contestant as the big national Public Links tournament entered the third round at the Miami Country Club today.

Dave Stanley, who won the championship of the American weekend golfers in last year's tournament in Milwaukee, is back trying to defend it.

He won his first match in yesterday's second round, after a first-round bye, eliminating George Eluck of Windsor, Ontario, the only Canadian in the field. His opponent today will be Bob Scherer of Decatur, Ill., who won yesterday over Leon Butler of Atlanta, 4 and 2.

Even Stanley couldn't match the formidable 35-37-70 par for the rugged Miami course as he made his opening bid for a second straight Public Links title. He three-putted four of the 16 greens and was five over par for the distance.

More than 2,000 golfers from the municipal courses began the original district qualifying rounds for the Publinx title. Two 18-hole rounds today will whittle the field to 16.

Two more rounds tomorrow will clear the way to Friday's 36-hole semifinals. The 36-hole final will be played Saturday.

Only one player, Bob Kay of Toledo, matched par for the 6,411-yard Miami course in yesterday's round. Key ousted Robert Wilder of Phoenix, Ariz., 6 and 5. His opponent today will be Robert Daniel of San Francisco, who won in the second round over James Gunkle of Denver, 1 up on the 20th.

Donald Thornton, of Los Angeles, yesterday eliminated Charles Nicail of Detroit, in second round competition, 2 and 1.

Yanks, Dodgers Use Different Theories

NEW YORK—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees are using different "formulas" in their 1952 pennant drive.

Brooklyn is employing the method used successfully by John McGraw, late manager of the New York Giants. The Yanks are following their own tried and true pennant blueprint.

McGraw's pennant philosophy was simple, "beat the bushers." The fiery Giant immortal brought ten pennants to the Polo Grounds, many as a result of piling it on the second division teams while holding the contenders even.

Beat Top Teams

The Yanks' theory is just the opposite. The Bombers say, "knock off your nearest rival." The Yanks always seem to reach the heights in a crucial series.

Brooklyn's 4½ game lead over the New York Giants today was built chiefly on the Dodgers' success against the sixth, seventh and eighth place teams.

The Dodgers have won 33 games and lost only 1 to the last three teams in the standings. The Giants have captured 22 and lost six from the same three teams.

Brooklyn has beaten sixth place Cincinnati in 10 of 11 games, owns a 13-0 record over seventh place Boston and boasts a 10-0 mark over tail-end Pittsburgh.

Cubs Have Edge

The Brooks have won only 18 games and dropped 20 against the other five teams. The Chicago Cubs are the only other rival the Brooks hold an advantage over. The Dodgers have won six out of nine from the fourth place Bruins.

The Yanks, seeking their fourth straight flag and 19th since 1920, have won 19 and lost 11 in first division opponents and stand 26-18 over the lower echelon teams.

Only Boston's fifth place Red Sox hold an edge over the Yanks. The Red Sox, only a game out of fourth place, have won six of ten meetings with the Yanks. The Yanks have taken eight of 11 decisions from second place Chicago, stand 5-5 with third place Cleveland and have won six and lost three to fourth place Washington.

CLEVELAND INDIANS SCOUTS arrived here this morning to open the three-day baseball school at the Escanaba city diamond. The major league experts were greeted by a large turnout of young ball players, two of whom are shown above watching Nap

Marinette Will Furnish Boxers

MANISTIQUE—The Marinette-Menominee Golden Gloves boxing team will contribute six fighters to the amateur boxing card here next month, it was announced today by Fr. George Pernaski of St. Francis de Sales C.Y.O.

Included in the entry list submitted by Leo Legacy, trainer for the Co. A 127th Infantry boxing team, is the novice lightweight champion of the Akron, Ohio, tournament last winter, Robert Hanson, former Marinette Silver Gloves boxer, won the Akron tournament in four bouts but was eliminated at Cleveland in his first bout. He lost on a decision to the Cleveland champion.

Hanson is 16 years old and weighs in at 132 pounds. He may be matched against Manistique's novice champion, Harvard Lancour, who copped the U. P. and Milwaukee tournament titles at 135.

Other fighters in Legacy's stable include Jim Meissner, 136; Larry Lane, 155; Ronnie Barrette, 130; Bob Rose, 118, and Ronnie Sovay, 112.

Other boxers from the Upper Peninsula area are being sought as opponents for trainer Ed Toyra's Manistique team.

Amateurs Begin State Golf Play

CHARLEVOIX, Mich.—(P)—More than 200 play-to-for golfers shook the chill out of their bones and clubs and started the five-day Michigan amateur golf tournament today at rain-drenched Belvedere Golf course.

Oddly, three top contenders were assigned to the same threesome—Lou Wendrow of Lansing, Jim Funston of Detroit and Harold Brink of Grand Rapids.

Brink is the tourney's almost-but-not-quite guy. He's never won it, but he was runner-up in 1946 and 1949 and quarter-finalist last year.

Wendrow won the 1946 title—the last non-Detroit to win—and Funston was 1947 runner-up.

Other leading contenders who were registered yesterday included Tom Draper and Fred Turner, both of Detroit. Since the entry list was held open until as late as 3 p. m. today, sponsors weren't sure what other top golfers would be on hand.

The fellow who wins must hold up for 144 gruelling holes—18 each today and tomorrow in qualifying, two 18-hole rounds of match play on both Friday and Saturday and a 36-hole match play finale Sunday.

The low 32 scores qualify for match play.

The fellow who wins probably won't be defending champion Chuck Kocis of Detroit. He didn't expect to be on hand.

Players hope for sunnier skies that would dry and warm the hilly, scenic Belvedere layout. The thermometer showed 61 degrees as the last golfers finished practice rounds yesterday.

From the Belvedere clubhouse the golfers could look to the right and see water—sprawling Lake Charlevoix and they could see water to the left—huge Lake Michigan and they could see water straight up—rainwater. It rained all day.

Charley Saad, assistant trainer of West Virginia University athletic teams, serves as trainer for the Memphis Chicks in the Southern Association.

Large Turnout Greeted Scouts As Cleveland Indian School Opens

A large turnout of young baseball players from throughout the Upper Peninsula greeted three Cleveland Indians scouts for the first practice session of the three-day baseball school here at 10 a. m. today.

American Legion District Tourney Schedule Made Up

Tournament play for the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tourney to be held next week at Menominee has been drawn. It was announced today by Karl Dickson, district chairman.

The six-team tourney gets underway with three games late next week. Al's Bark River Legion team, rated one of the strong clubs in the district, faces the Escanaba Cubs in the first round of the double-elimination tournament.

Other first-round games will match Menominee against Powers and Gladstone against Cornell. Championship games will be played on the third day of the tourney.

Rain Holds Up Clay Court Play

CHICAGO—(P)—Seeded Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., must dispose of two foes today to catch up with the field in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tourney.

Stalled by his late arrival from the Wimbledon meet and yesterday's rain which wiped out the entire second day's program, Savitt makes a first-round appearance against Princeton's Earl Schulze of Riverside, Ill.

If Savitt crushes Schulze as expected, he will have another afternoon skirmish with a veteran opponent, former champion Seymour Greenberg, in a second-round match. Greenberg won the clay courts title in 1942 and 1943.

Don Candy of Australia, who tops the foreign seeding, must also contemplate two matches. He opens against Ron Livingston of Los Angeles and, winning, would move against Cleo Sinnard of Oak Park, Ill.

Play also starts today in the men's doubles division at the suburban River Forest tennis club.

Twenty-eight candidates for Cleveland's first school in the Upper Peninsula were on hand at registration time at 10, and more were arriving throughout the morning. A second practice session this afternoon at 1 is expected to draw an even larger attendance.

Ross In Charge

Nap Ross, Cleveland scout in charge of the camp, said that an evening workout will be held Thursday at 6:30 at the city diamond for all players unable to make the daytime sessions. No advance registration or notification will be necessary, he said.

Latimer Placek, chief of Cleveland scouts, was unable to attend the school here, Ross said. Placek

Tri County Managers Will Meet Tonight

H'JMANVILLE—Ten managers of Tri County baseball league teams are slated to meet here tonight at 8:15 (EST) at Rodman's Bar to complete second-half league business.

Managers will consider a request to name an all-star team to face the Cleveland Indians school all-stars at Escanaba Friday evening.

Team rosters must be brought up to date and will be examined at the meeting tonight. A league ruling requires players to see action in the first half in order to be eligible to play in the second half.

Maki In Two-Hitter, Fans Dozen Batters

GLADSTONE—Dick Maki hurled a two-hit ball and fanned a dozen batters last night at Kipling whipping Ensign 6-0.

Maki homered as did Bob Maki and Bob Lake. In the other game last night Lions defeated Vencer Mill 8-6 in a nine inning battle.

All-Star Locker Rooms Are Gloomy After Game

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—There was little excitement in the All-Star dressing rooms after yesterday's abbreviated 19th annual dream game. In fact, there weren't enough players in either to cause a ripple.

Maybe it was the rain and gloom of the day. But everybody seemed to have one objective—getting out. For a while it looked as if the newspapermen were going to have to interview each other.

Other, Hank Sauer, Bobby Shantz, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Stan Musial saved the day.

Sauer, reminded by a reporter of the 1950 All-Star game when the big Chicago Cub home run manufacturer was the unwanted man, expressed satisfaction that he had completed a mission. Sauer was voted to the All-Star team by the fans that year, but National League Manager Burt Shotton tried to replace the big guy with his own Duke Snider.

Two-Run Homer

The major league's top home run slugger—he has lost 23 balls this season—won the game for the National League with a swat that landed on the left field roof at Shibe park. Musial was on base at the time and it erased a 2 to 1 American lead to provide a 3 to 2 National victory.

Over in a corner of the American League linen quarters, sat a guy who looked more like a high school freshman waiting for his big brother to dress. Another local disclosed it was Robert Clayton Shantz, dwarfish southpaw of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Could he have been thinking how nice it would have been to get a shot at Carl Hubbell's record.

Hubbell, you may remember, struck out five of the greatest sluggers in baseball in the 1934 All-Star game—Babe Ruth, Lou

Marinette Faces Al's Legion Team At Bark River Thursday Night

BARK RIVER—Al's Bark River Legion baseball team makes its final pre-tournament start here Thursday evening at 6:30 against the strong Marinette Legion club. The Marinette team boasts a season record of nine wins and one defeat. Included in the record is a 4-3 victory over Al's at Marinette last week.

Manager Mac McComber will send Fred Boddy, southpaw ace, against Marinette. Boddy was on the mound when the Bark River team lost to Marinette in the previous game.

Opposing Boddy will be Marinette's No. 1 moundsman, Carl Sievert, who has won four and lost one to date.

Remainder of the Bark River lineup will have such veteran Legion stars as Dave Kwarciany, Jim Greenwood, Harold Charbonneau, Bartozek, Tippy Larmay, Paul Gunderman, Johnson, Bob Sendenbergh and Bill Maycunich.

Leading the Marinette team at the plate are Rich Peterson who carries a 10-game batting average of .522 and Jim Schmidt, second baseman who is hitting .433.

Seven of the Marinette regulars boast averages of .300 or better. Paul Thomsen and Clem Bunda are the other members of the Marinette mound staff.

The Marinette team, playing under Bob Hasse, American Legion baseball booster, has worked as a unit for the past five seasons. The club is expected to have little trouble reaching the Wisconsin state finals again this season.

In an Oldtimers League clash Claimants posted a 6-3 win over the St. Joe Boosters. George Wise and Cully Engstrom made up the winning battery with Stan Srock and Fran Grenier working for the losers.

The Westby's Service team has reorganized and will hold a practice workout at Webster diamond at 6:30 Thursday evening.

Track Team In Finland

HELSINKI—(P)—The strongest track and field team the United States ever assembled arrived today hopeful of maintaining American Olympic supremacy. Eighty husky athletes stepped off the plane in dazzling sunshine at 5 a. m. Finnish time after flying through a night of almost daytime brightness into this land of the midnight sun.

Coaches pronounced them as fit as they looked. Every ailing member of the squad is improving so rapidly they are expected to be in top shape by the time the games open July 19—with the single exception of Jim Fuchs.

Fuchs, world champion shot-putter, is still limping with a torn ligament in his right ankle. "It's better, but not good yet," Fuchs said.

"We have a good strong team," Head Track Field Coach Brutus Hamilton told reporters at the airport. "On basis of our records this is the best team we have ever sent to the Olympic games."

"Of course," he added, "we realize the rest of the world has improved too. So it's doubtful we will win as many gold medals as in 1948. But we will certainly make a good showing."

Gladstone Outboard Racers Cop Prizes

Gladstone drivers copped prize money in the Upper Peninsula Outboard Racing Association events held Sunday at Houghton.

Fred Pepin copped first place in the nine-entry Class B race and Gordon Marshall took fourth in the same event. After a change of motors Pepin placed second in Class C.

Twenty-eight entries took part in the event sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. $400 in prize money was distributed.

DETROIT—(P)—Twenty athletes from Michigan will compete in the Olympic games at Helsinki. Four years ago Michigan had 16 contestants in the Olympics at London.

The University of Michigan will have a delegation of seven athletes but five of them will be representing other countries. Michigan State college will have four contestants.

Burwell (Bumpy) Jones of the University of Michigan swimming team will compete in the 200-meter. Ron Gora, an 19-year-old freshman teammate from Chicago, will compete in the 100-meter.

In the foreign delegation from Michigan will be John Ross, 20, and Jack Carroll, 21, runners, and Roy Pella, 20, discus thrower. They are on Canada's Olympic squad. Michigan's Roland (Fritz) Nilsson, 27, will toss the shot for Sweden. John Davies, 21, will swim the breaststroke for Australia.

Clark Schotes, 21, of Detroit and Michigan State, is favored to win the 100-meter free style. Other Spartans on the squad are Lt. Warren Druetzler, 24, of the Army, 1,500 meter runner; Chuck Spieser, 22, boxing, and Adolph Weinacker, 25, walking.

Detroit is sending four rowers. They are Eddie Stevens, 19, stroke on Navy's champion eight-oared shell; Pat Costello, 22, and Walter Hoover Jr., 18, of Detroit Boat club, doubles representatives; and John McKinlay, 20, alternate on the fours without coxswain.

Single competitions from Detroit include Tommy O'Rourke, 17, cycling; Byron Krieger, 32, fencing; Lt. Harry Reeves, 41, shooting; Norbert Schemanski, 27, weight lifting, and Dale Thomas, 26, an instructor at Michigan State, wrestling.

Sauer's Homer Is Payoff

Nationals Win 3-2 In Five

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The triumphant National League All-stars should have been happy today with their third straight victory over the American League. Instead, they were bitter—and all their bitterness was directed at their beaten rivals.

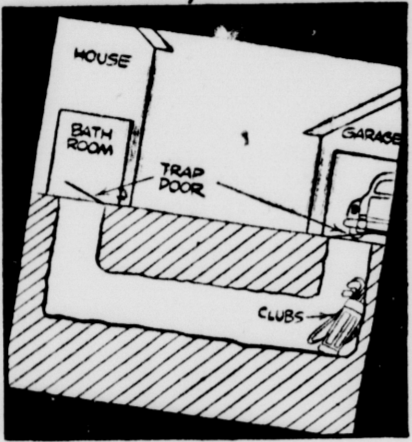

"So Casey Stengel blames the defeat on the weather?" a National all-star participant echoed. "That's a lot of sour grapes. What's the matter? Don't they like it when the shoe is on the other foot?"

"I suppose the raindrops carried

Tigers Begin Second Half Against Red Sox Thursday

DETROIT — (AP) — The three game series with the Boston Red Sox, opening Thursday night at Fenway Park, rounds out the first half of the 1952 American League schedule for the Detroit Tigers.

Newly appointed Manager Fred Hutchinson takes the Tigers to Boston, 20 games out of first place. The Bengal's 25 wins as against 49 losses places the Detroit club five and a half games out of seventh place.

Hutchinson, one of two Tiger pitchers to boast an above .500 average, probably will start the second half of the 154-game grind without a .300 hitter on the Tiger roster.

Leads Batters

Don Kolloway who had made 123 trips to the plate, heads the Bengal batters with a .293 average. Kolloway has 36 hits, and has 13 runs batted in to his credit.

Jerry Priddy, out for the rest of the season, paced the regulars, in 279 trips to the plate, Priddy collected 79 hits for a .283 average. He batted in 20 runs and hit four home runs.

Vic Wertz, with a .248 average, leads all Tigers, as well as the American League in home runs. Wertz has collected 16 in 218 trips to the plate.

His 54 hits have driven in 45 runs.

Big Walt Dropo, obtained from the Boston Red Sox in the million dollar trade, is tied with Wertz for the RBI leadership. Dropo boasts an over-all (Boston record included) .262 average and has 70 hits.

In the pitching department, the Tigers have four hurlers, including Hutchinson who has announced his probable retirement from the mound, above the five hundred mark.

Gray Has 8-8

Hutchinson has two wins to his credit as against a single loss. Ted Gray is even with eight wins and eight losses. Bill Wight, another

Bonus Pitcher In Three-Hitter

(By The Associated Press)

It appears that $100,000 the Boston Red Sox reportedly invested to sign 19-year-old Frank Bauman was no wild gamble.

Bauman, ex-St. Louis high school pitching star, last night hurled a three-hitter, striking out 12, to give Louisville a 3-0 win over Milwaukee which knocked the Brewers out of the American Association lead.

Kansas City moved to the top rung, one percentage point ahead of Milwaukee, by whipping Indianapolis, 4-1, with an attack that included a two-run homer by Don Bollweg, his 14th circuit clout of the season.

A Charleston, W. Va., crowd of 4,147 saw the first league visit by St. Paul's Saints who proved rude guests by downing the Senators, 3-1. Catcher Frank Baldwin knocked in all three Saint runs with a single, infield grounder and an outfield fly.

those two home-run blasts by Jackie Robinson and Hank Sauer over the wall," the indignant National Leaguer continued. "If anybody has a beef about the rain, it should be us. They would not have scored either of their two runs if the ground had not been wet and slippery."

Bench Strength

Earlier Manager Stengel was asked to what he attributed the American 3-2 defeat in yesterday's game that was cut to five innings because of incessant rain.

"I ain't blaming anybody," the gnarled old skipper of the New York Yankees said at first. Then he ventured, "maybe, the rain."

"Can't tell what would have happened if we'd played out the game. I had some good men on the bench ready to send in, guys

Burke Leading Money Winner

CHICAGO — (AP) — Professional golf's race for 1952 money-winning honors is beginning to get hot.

Jack Burke, once well-entrenched as the cash-collecting leader, now heads 1951 money king, Lloyd Mangrum, by less than $700, and Cary Middlecoff is pushing in the third spot.

Burke has $12,970, Mangrum $12,296, and Middlecoff $11,106, the P.G.A. reported today.

What's more, three players are bunched in the $9,000 bracket, including Dave Douglas, Julius Boros and Ted Kroll.

Kroll, Purple Heart veteran, has made an outstanding start, finishing among the first 10 in every start during the past five weeks, including a semifinal effort in the PGA championship and a playoff loss to Middlecoff for the Motor City Open title.

Burke, who zoomed to a good cash lead with four straight wins earlier in the year, has been displaced by Mangrum as leader in the Vardon trophy race. Mangrum's average for 40 rounds is 70.10, compared with Burke's 70.94.

Kroll and Jim Ferrier are tied for third with 71.20.

Burke still holds a 49-point lead over Mangrum in the Ryder Cup team contention, 363 3/4 to 314 1/4.

Leading money winners:

| Rds.           | Score | Winning |             |
|----------------|-------|---------|-------------|
| Jack Burke Jr. | 56    | 70.94   | $12,970.00 |
| L. Mangrum     | 40    | 70.70   | $12,296.67 |
| C. Middlecoff  | 55    | 71.09   | $11,106.65 |
| Dave Douglas   | 56    | 71.82   | $9,563.33  |
| Julius Boros   | 56    | 71.82   | $9,563.33  |
| Ted Kroll      | 60    | 71.20   | $9,270.83  |
| Doug Ford      | 68    | 71.35   | $8,325.00  |

like Mickey Mantle, Vic Wertz, Ferris Fain and Eddie Yost."

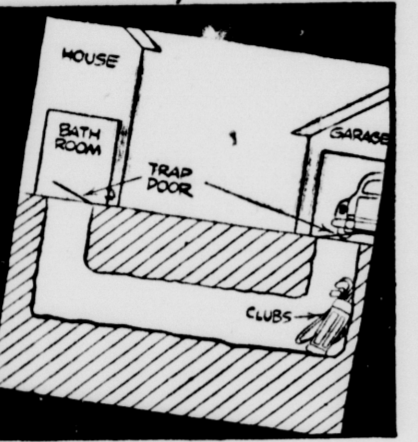

There is no question but what the rain and muddy field marred the play, but it didn't appear to hamper the pitchers and it had little effect, if any, on the National League sluggers.

430-Foot Drive

Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet would have prevented Sauer's terrific blast from clearing the wall with Stan Musial on base in the fourth inning.

That mighty home run, a 430-footer that landed atop the roof and bounded out of the premises, equalized the two-run spurge of the American in the top of the fourth and gave the Nationals their seventh win in 19 clashes and Manager Leo Durocher's first in three attempts. Stengel, hardest working Bengal hurlers on the innings pitched basis. Gray has hurled 116 innings and is with 69 strike outs. Houtteman, in 120 1/3 innings, has 49 strikeouts to his credit.

As a team, the last place Tigers are batting at a .239 clip. In their first 73 games this year, Bengal batters have collected 613 hits and crossed the plate 270 times.

Tiger hurlers have given up 622 hits.

Sports Roundup

By RIP WATSON
(For Gayle Talbot)

NEW YORK — (AP) — Those pesky New York Yankees are making the so-called baseball experts look bad again.

Not only are the Yankees leading the American league, despite the Associated Press' pre-season poll which clearly showed that the Yankees' proper niche was second place behind the Cleveland Indians. That would be villainy enough but the New Yorkers are compounding their crime by winning consistently without a star of the Babe Ruth-Joe DiMaggio magnitude. This lack of a great star was the reason cited by many of the writers for consigning the three-time world champions to a spot lower their accustomed first place.

There actually is a bit of logic to that line of reasoning. The records show that the New York American League entry was something less than a menace to first place for the first 20 years of the century.

About that time Babe Ruth came to the Yankees and they won six pennants in eight years from 1912 through 1928. The Babe and his mates were temporarily eclipsed by the Philadelphia Athletics for a time, but came on again to win it all in 1932. That was Ruth's last winning effort, however, and the once-proud New York team failed to win again until DiMaggio arrived on the scene in 1936.

Sparked by the Jolter, the Yanks ripped off four pennants in a row, missed by a whisker in 1940 and then came back for three more in succession. They flourished through the latter part of the war years, won in 1947, missed out in another close finish in 1948 and then came on for three more pennants in 1949-51 as DiMaggio closed out his career.

This utter disregard in the matter of form also seems to have spread to swimming, a sport which normally is a form players paradise.

If they ever installed parimutuel machines for the faithful few who attend swimming meets, form players would have a field day since it usually is a cinch to pick winners.

So what happens in the Olympic tryouts?

Ford Konno, the wiry Ohio Stater out of Hawaii regarded as a sure thing in both the 400 meters and 1,500 meters, finished third behind Wayne Moore and Jimmy McLane in the 400 meters. Then, after turning in the fastest 1,500 qualifying time, he was beaten again by McLane in the final. And Moore was beaten by Bill Woolsey, a 17-year-old Hawaiian schoolboy, for third place.

The 100-meter backstroke, regarded as a toss-up among Jack Taylor, Dick Thoman, 1948 Olympic champion Allen Stack, and Jimmy Thomas, was won by Yoshi Oyakawa, another teen-age Hawaiian sensation now swimming for Ohio State. Oyakawa tied teammate Taylor's American record of 2:07.3 in winning the NCAA 200-yard race, but he was supposed to be strictly a 200 yard man, not fast enough for the shorter races.

If these young swimmers continue to defy the form charts with such impunity, perhaps it would be better to leave the mutuel machines out at the race track where they belong.

Sarazen Strong Title Contender

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England—Britain's Open golf championship began in earnest on the 6,657-yard Royal Lutham course today with the veteran Gene Sarazen, winner of the title 20 years ago, one of the big favorites.

There are 92 entrants still in the running and after two more rounds the field will be cut to 50.

Three former champions failed to survive the qualifying rounds for Britain's top golfing honor—Dick Burton, Alf Padgham and Reg Whitcombe, all Britains.

But stocky Sarazen from Germantown, N. Y., showed he still is capable of brilliant golf. The 50-year-old farmer shot 69's both yesterday and Monday to finish sixth in the list of qualifiers.

Other Americans who set out today for a crack at the title included Willie Hunter of Los Angeles who had a 146, Willie Goggin of Montclair, N. J., with a 148; Jimmy Hines of Chicago with a 149 and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, with a 152.

"We solved our hauling problems with Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks"

"Our business calls for trucks that can haul big loads day in and day out—and we like our trucks to last, too! That's why we prefer Dodge trucks that are 'Job-Rated' to fit our particular hauling job."

"We recently put in service two Dodge 'Job-Rated' 1½-ton models . . . and they sure haul big loads the way we want them to! For instance, the 170-inch wheelbase models allow for a 14-foot body, which is ideal for our business. And Dodge easy-handling advantages enable us to maneuver these trucks in the same space as some other trucks with 12-foot bodies."

For bigger payloads, choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—½- through 4-ton.

"Job-Rated" engineering makes it possible for you to haul more with the right Dodge truck for your needs.

You haul more economically, too, because of such Dodge advantages as lightweight aluminum-alloy pistons and others.

For smoother power, extra load protection, gyro Fluid Drive is available on ½-, ¾-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.

Come in for a demonstration—and an extra good deal!

Better weight distribution. Dodge short wheelbase allows more weight to be carried on the front axle. Because the engine is located farther forward and front axle is moved back, you can haul bigger loads without overloading.

The right load-carrying units. Frame, axles, and other units that carry the load are "Job-Rated" on Dodge. Each is engineered to provide strength and capacity needed to support your load. All are "Job-Rated" to work together!

The right load-moving units. You get an engine that's "Job-Rated" with plenty of power to pull bigger loads at low cost. In fact, all load-moving units—such as clutch, transmission, rear axle—are engineered to move bigger loads.

The day started with a parade followed by races of all kinds. In the afternoon they enjoyed a ballgame between Blaney, whose team consists of several Grand Marais boys, and Newberry, with the Blaney team as victors. In the evening the cars lined the bank overlooking the bay to watch the boat races and parade and to listen to numbers by the High School Band. Following that the high school dance band, "Bee's Bops", played for street dancing until it was dark enough to watch the display of fireworks.

Missionary Guest Here

Fr. Casimir Mark was host over the weekend to Fr. Vitalis O.F.M., Cap. of Milwaukee, who has been doing missionary work for the past three years in Central America. Fr. Vitalis was sent home for physical rest and during this time he is traveling around trying to get financial aid for his missions which are situated along twenty rivers in the jungles of Nicaragua. He told of many interesting and dangerous experiences in his travel up and down these rivers and of the struggle of his people against the jungle. The churches along these rivers are built only of bamboo and last only a few weeks and his main purpose is to seek aid to build small concrete churches that will stand. During his continuous trips up and down these rivers, as it takes him three months to travel his missions. Traveling is done in a boat hauled out of a log and driven by an outboard motor. Fr. Vitalis will return shortly to Nicaragua.
